Expenses (Required for section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations; optional for others.)
28 The Marol Academy (referred to as "The Organization") is the major supporter of the Marol Academy Primary School (MAPS) Due to the instability surrounding the Town of Wau 35 kilometers away, enrollments have surged to some 900 pupils as families fled to Marol village From February to December 2017, 18 Teachers of varying qualifications taught grades one to eight for MAPS Over-subscribed grades one and two had multiple streams, some of which had to assemble under trees due to classroom shortages In 2017, The Organization granted $22,400 to MAPS which supported primary teacher salaries, while the remainder helped subsidize free education for girls Closely related to MAPS is the Marol Academy Secondary School (MASS) Separately funded by other organizations, it has experienced significant growth because of the unrest at Wau Its 300 students have produced two years of graduates who have done well on national exams and have moved on to higher education While separately managed, MASS collaboratively shares some common resources and curriculum with MAPS Five teachers instruct in math, social science, agricultural science, religious studies as well as English and Dinka languages Our executive director Dr Jok Madut's goal of transforming local society through the education of both girls and boys has borne fruit Students are eager to learn and apply their learning Some walk up to ten miles to school Girls' lessons have improved public health as they teach their families simple hygiene Hand washing, safe food cooking handling and service have reduced illnesses The delaying of marriage has lessened maternal and child death rates And, education of boys has led more egalitarian gender relations, for instance Further, enthusiastic community and parental support has proven this coeducational grass roots approach to be an effective instrument of positive change But the promise of a national education system has been undermined at the central level Corruption and greed have consumed the worlds' fiscal contributions to the Republic of South Sudan Power struggles have yielded predatory factional violence, disrupting public safety and economic viability wherever resources are concentrated, and undermining national infrastructure While Marol remains calm, its transformative successes are threatened by the resultant triple digit inflation rates While the children in both schools continue to thrive academically, two critical factors belabor their work the need to increase local teacher and staff salaries, and to complete the buildings necessary to house their classes The Organization is committed to sustaining current successes until better times We are working hard to increase our donor base and to find additional grants for teacher salaries, and block grants to complete the needed buildings (Grants $ 22,400)	28a	22,400
