PART I & PART III, LINE 1	The Tiwahe Foundation is an American Indian community foundation that is a resource for giving and strengthens American Indian communities by building capacity through leadership, culture, values and vision. The Tiwahe Foundation is a living legacy that honors and champions American Indian families, traditions, spirituality, and through giving, fosters leadership and improves lives for present and future generations. Our core grantmaking through the American Indian Family Empowerment Program Fund provides direct grants to individuals in the impact areas of 1) Educational Attainment 2) Economic Stability and, 3) Renewing cultural connections. These grants provide opportunities to advance racial and economic equity for families with measurable impacts for the community. The Tiwahe Foundation is leading the Oyate Network, a collaborative to build and connect alumni leaders that have participated across various leadership and grantmaking programs specific to American Indian communities. The Oyate Network will build a network of individual leaders across rural, Tribal and urban communities that moves from isolation to transformation, action and social change. The Oyate Network encompasses network weaving training, relationship building and small project grants for participants to implement a community led project. As a new community foundation the Tiwahe Foundation continues to build its organizational capacity and the endowment with a goal of $6 million in endowment assets by 2018.
