Information Regarding Contribution, Grant, Gift, Loan, Scholarship, etc. Programs

The Woods Fund of Chicago is a grantmaking foundation committed to funding community-driven initiatives that fight the brutality of racism and poverty.

GRANTMAKING GUIDELINES

The following are the Woods Fund of Chicago grantmaking guidelines that reflect our vision, mission and core principles.

Woods Fund Vision

The Woods Fund of Chicago seeks to help create a society where people of all racial and ethnic groups, across all levels of social and economic status, are empowered and have a voice to influence policies that impact their lives, and where all communities are free of poverty and racism.

The Woods Fund Mission

The Woods Fund Chicago is a grantmaking foundation committed to the promotion of social, economic, and racial justice through the support of community organizing and public policy advocacy that engages people who are most impacted.

Core Principles

Woods Fund strongly believes in the need for and effectiveness of including communities that are most impacted by poverty and structural racism in the entire process of addressing issues that affect them. To this end, the Woods Fund encourages and supports organizations and initiatives that promote community-driven solutions.

Woods Fund values:

Community organizing and public policy advocacy efforts that lead to comprehensive, authentic, relevant, and sustainable solutions.

Woods Fund believes:

Systemic change is the only way to eradicate poverty and structural racism.

People most affected by poverty and racial inequity should be the leaders and participants in the process of addressing issues that impact them.

Woods Fund asserts:

Communities have greater strength, authority, and power through collaborative practice and collective voice.

Woods Fund commits:

To be an active partner and catalyst with organizations that share our mission and values.

Woods Fund recognizes:

Structural racism is a root cause of many challenges facing communities and serves as a significant barrier to eradicating poverty. Dismantling structural racism in society is a means to right social and economic injustices.

OVERVIEW OF GRANTMAKING

Woods Fund seeks to support organizations that focus on ending poverty and structural racism and whose efforts include leadership by and inclusion of communities most impacted.

Woods Fund grants are generally limited to nonprofit organizations that operate in the Chicago metropolitan area and are primarily provided to organizations located in Chicago. New applicants must be organizations as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code or have a fiscal sponsor that is such. They should also have a written ruling from the IRS that they are an organization as described under Section 509(a)(1), (2), or (3) of the Code.

Types of grant opportunities

There are three types of grant opportunities and respective processes: core grantmaking, invitation-only, and special grantmaking. The specific funding allocations for core, invitation-only and special grantmaking are made annually through the foundation's budget process.

Core grantmaking encompasses the majority of Woods Fund's annual grants budget, and the Woods Fund board of directors awards these grants two times a year. Core grantmaking involves a two-part application process. The first part is the submission of the Letter of Inquiry or Intent to Apply form for new applicants and renewing organizations, respectively. If invited, the applicants proceed to the second part of the process which is submission of a Full Application or Integrated Application for new applicants or incumbents, respectively.

Core grantmaking areas include:

- Community Organizing;
- Public Policy Advocacy; and
- Intersection of Community Organizing and Public Policy Advocacy.

Invitation-only grantmaking is made to organizations that are formally invited to apply via a letter or email from the president or lead program officer. If invited, the organization will participate in one of the two grantmaking cycles each year.

Invitation-only areas include:

- Arts and Social Justice; and
- Spotlight.

Special grantmaking may be available to organizations on a limited basis.

Special grantmaking includes:

- Capacity Building Initiative (CBI); and
- Special Opportunity Grants.

Core Grantmaking

Woods Fund board of directors has quarterly board meetings; the board approves core grants during its March and September meetings.

The current priorities for core grantmaking include funding organizations that:

- Have local board leadership and derive their agenda from the community they serve;

- Have operating budgets under $5 million;
- Are new to the Woods Fund portfolio and are either small, emerging or existing organizations that are advancing efforts in underserved or under-represented communities;
- Are willing to work in collaboration with similar institutions, stakeholders, and broad-based coalitions;
- Are explicitly seeking to organize and advocate for systems change that eradicates poverty and structural racism.

Poverty Eradication Priority

Woods Fund seeks to support and promote work that eradicates poverty.

Addressing the root causes of poverty has long been a priority of Woods Fund. Woods Fund recognizes the fluid state of poverty and its adverse and disproportionate impact on communities of color, immigrants, women, children, people with disabilities, and other marginalized populations. Persistent neglect and disinvestment have contributed to concentrated poverty and to the perpetuation of generational poverty. Interventions must be intentional and structural to effectively impact the cycle of poverty. Strategies must involve changing policies to create an environment where families and individuals can support themselves to the greatest extent possible, tailoring strategies to address layered systems of income suppression.

Poverty reduction requires:

- Applying differential resources to unequal needs;
- A complex, multifaceted approach that addresses the root causes of poverty;
- The dismantling and restructuring of legally protected systems that perpetuate systemic poverty.

As it relates to funding for poverty eradication, Woods Fund grantmaking is guided by the following five building blocks:

- Understanding of the complex systems that produce sustained economic inequity;
- Effectively advancing systems reform on multiple levels across various issue areas;
- Meaningful analysis of the history of long-term structural disinvestment in communities impacted by poverty;
- Recognition of the need for comprehensive structural reform;
- Systemic intervention and change at the appropriate institutional level.

Racial Equity Priority

Woods Fund seeks to support and promote work that dismantles structural racism.

Woods Fund recognizes that structural racism is a root cause of many challenges facing communities and serves as a significant barrier to eradicating poverty. Structural racism is the cumulative impact of past and present policies and practices. Racial divisions, disinvestment, disenfranchisement and discriminatory policies have produced and exacerbated income inequality and disparate access to resources and opportunities for generations of Chicagoans. This is evidenced by deep racial segregation across communities and severe disparities across nearly every quality of life indicator—from education and health to incarceration and jobs.

Racial equity is situational fairness, resulting in the inability to predict advantage or disadvantage by race, both by improving outcomes overall while also closing racial gaps in outcomes.

Racial equity requires:

- Applying differential resources to unequal needs;
- Removing barriers for dissimilarly situated individuals, families, and communities;
- Treating similarly situated individuals, families, and communities similarly; and
- Addressing areas where structural racism exists.

Racial equity is a multi-issue framework that confronts racial disparities to produce fair outcomes and opportunities for all communities. It provides proactive tools, synergistic strategies and more effective policy to address structural problems. The racial equity framework provides new tools to explicitly address the racialization of policy debates that criminalize communities and limit organizing potential. Racial equity strategies connect leaders and organizations across communities and bring solutions to scale. Racial equity creates crucial spaces for those most impacted by inequities to build power and lead through collective practice and collective voice.

As it relates to racial equity funding, Woods Fund grantmaking is guided by the following six building blocks:

- Utilization of a shared language;
- Understanding of a structural perspective;
- Recognition of the need for a structural analysis;
- Systemic application of a racial equity impact analysis;
- Effectively communicating the benefits accruing to all as a result of racially equitable work; and
- Reliance on disaggregated data that advances the understanding of how different groups are differently situated.

Level of Support

Grant funding amounts depend on the size, maturity, and capacity of the grantee organization. The range of grants is $25,000 to $55,000. New and/or emerging organizations identified for funding will generally receive $10,000 annually for the initial year(s) of funding.

Type and Duration of Support

Woods Fund understands the importance of and prioritizes the provision of general operating support, when appropriate. Woods fund may prefer to provide project-based support in circumstances where:

- The organization is multifaceted and/or primarily service-based;
- The organization's budget is 60% or more allocated to non-community organizing/non-public policy advocacy work; or
- The organization is applying for a specific project; or
- The organization is new or emerging.

Multiyear Grants

Grantees that have consistently met objectives, that demonstrate strong operational and financial capacity, and that can communicate carefully considered plans for their future may be eligible for multiyear funding. Multiyear funding applications are accepted by invitation only. The decision to award a multiyear grant will depend on a number of factors, including a clear and well-organized plan that includes methods used to evaluate progress, the number of organizations eligible for multiyear funding, and the amount of Woods Fund funding available for long-term commitments. Thus, applicants for multiyear funding, even if invited to apply, may receive funding only for one year.

To be considered, an organization must:

- Have a high level of board and senior staff composition inclusive of communities of color;
- Have received consecutive funding from Woods Fund for at least the previous two years;
- Be a financially stable organization without significant operating deficits;
- Be a collaborative partner and field builder;
- Consistently meet objectives;
- Have a trajectory towards or already demonstrated it is a high performing and sustainable organization.

If granted, multiyear funding may not be guaranteed due to subsequent factors such as grantee non-performance, non-compliance, or significant changes in organizational leadership and/or objectives. Further, there may be subsequent factors at the Woods Fund that may result in an inability to completely fund an entire multiyear cycle.

Core Grantmaking Program Areas

Community Organizing

The Community Organizing program area supports work that enables democracy at the grassroots level and beyond. It is a process that brings together people who individually may lack sufficient power, but collectively may form an influential group of people that can improve opportunities and communities. Community organizing may be locally focused, but has the intention and potential to have reverberations beyond a particular neighborhood into the larger social strata.

Once organized into an effective entity, individuals gain a vehicle for articulating their concerns and goals, proposing ideas and solutions, demanding accountability from influential forces, and shaping the relevant public policies. Successful organizing “builds power for effective action in the public arena.” It also generates hope, fosters leadership as well as intentional communities of interest, and strengthens institutions in economically disadvantaged neighborhoods. As a structure, community organizing is largely comprised of dedicated volunteers, assisted by paid or volunteer leaders.

Woods Fund aims to support community organizing within organizations that:

- Develop independent, community-controlled organizations that elect their own leaders and determine their own issues;
- Engage people most impacted by poverty and structural racism in creating strategies to achieve systemic change;
- Provide ongoing opportunities to develop the leadership capacity of volunteers/leaders, including involving in campaign strategy, organizational development, and governance;
- Develop organizations whose efforts may be locally focused but have the potential to reverberate beyond a particular neighborhood;
- Have or seek to develop relationships with similar organizations and broad-based coalitions to achieve greater impact both within and beyond the Chicago metropolitan area;
- Demonstrate the ability to build a powerful constituency that is capable and prepared to challenge powerful interests if necessary to achieve change;
- Seek to influence and shape public policies to address systemic poverty and structural racism;
- Continually reflect on, improve, and document practices to increase effectiveness of both operations and outreach;

- Share best practices and learning experiences with other organizations funded by Woods Fund and its stakeholders.

Organizations that seek to apply for a Woods Fund Community Organizing grant should follow the instructions outlined at the end of these guidelines.

Public Policy Advocacy

The Public Policy Advocacy program area supports a range of activities that can influence public debate and policy decisions to address poverty and promote racial equity and that prompt or lead to systemic changes to support and empower low-income, marginalized communities.

Public policy creation is the result of an incremental, often long-term process, with many variables and participants. Public policy changes in stages, in waves of momentum rising and building to create a change. Due to its complexity and unpredictability, no one group or organization can control the public policy process.

Effective advocacy can include educating the public and policy makers about issues of concern, striving to influence legislation, working to shape development of governmental agency rules and regulations, litigating on public policy issues, and ensuring that under-represented communities have a voice in the policy process.

Woods Fund aims to support public policy advocacy within organizations that:

- Seek to create systems change to address poverty and structural racism;
- Engage people most affected by injustice and inequities in defining the public policy problems and agenda setting;
- Establish partnerships and connections with community groups and grassroots organizations to ensure that policy recommendations are informed by those most impacted;
- Employ strategies that maximize influence through uniting voices to build collective power;
- Augment and enhance the work of Woods Fund community organizing grantees;
- Work on policy changes that have a high potential for short-term and long-term successes;
- Understand the complexity and regional landscape of public policy;
- Have earned the respect of partners in the field and community-based organizations;
- Have access to a wide network that can benefit the work of the Woods Fund and its grantees;
- Conduct research and gather information;
- Network and build coalitions to bring groups together in a coordinated strategy to win effective solutions to policy problems; and
- Provide information to public officials, decision-makers, and the public.

Public policy advocacy can include any effort intended to shape government actions including the influencing of:

- Decisions made by local, state and federal elected officials, such as the passage of bills, executive orders and budget allocations;
- Decisions made directly by voters, such as referendums;
- Decisions made by local, state or federal agencies about how policies are implemented, including regulations, agency practices, and policy enforcement; and
- Legal actions that set precedents and interpret existing laws.

Please note that Woods Fund requires that grantees adhere to lobbying limits established by the federal government for organizations with a 501(c)(3) designation. Please refer to the information provided on the BolderAdvocacy.org of the Alliance for Justice website for a detailed description of regulations and requirements for nonprofits engaged in advocacy work.

Organizations that seek to apply for a Woods Fund Public Policy grant should follow the instructions outlined at the end of these guidelines.

Intersection of Community Organizing and Public Policy Advocacy

Woods Fund believes that community organizing and public policy advocacy can be strengthened through an integrated approach. Therefore, Woods Fund welcomes intersection applications that develop policy recommendations and advocacy strategies that are led by the communities impacted. These strategies should build the capacity of community organizers and community organizing efforts to move beyond local issues and more purposefully address system and policy change. These organizations have a sophisticated understanding of the local and regional landscape of public policy. An organization that operates at the intersection of community organizing and public policy advocacy is connected to collaborative efforts and leverages its power with its allies to implement systems change.

Woods Fund aims to support intersection grants with organizations that have the characteristics outlined in the Community Organizing and Public Policy areas.

Organizations that seek to apply for a Woods Fund Intersection of Community Organizing and Public Policy Advocacy grant should follow the instructions outlined at the end of these guidelines.

Organizational Profile

Woods Fund wants to know more about the composition of grant seekers' boards, staff, membership and the individuals/communities they actively engage. This information helps the Woods Fund better understand if the demographics of its constituency is reflected in its leadership. Although some of the categories require self-disclosure, please complete the profile as fully as possible with information that is known at the time of the application submission. Please do not provide percentages.

Woods Fund believes it is important that the board and senior staff of its grantee partners are inclusive of people of color and that they reflect the communities they represent and/or serve.

To be considered, all applicants must provide information about their organization's leadership demographics. For inclusiveness of people of color on an organization's board and senior staff, prospective and current grantee partners will receive a rating of low, medium, or high, as outlined below.

Percentage of People of Color in Leadership (board and senior staff)	Rating
25% or less	Low
26% to 40%	Medium
41% to 100%	High

After two years of funding from the Woods Fund, all grantee partners must have at least a medium rating of inclusiveness of people of color on the board and senior staff. Only grantee partners with a high rating will be eligible for multiyear funding.

Invitation Only

Arts and Social Justice

Organizations applying for Arts and Social Justice grants must be formally invited to apply via a letter or email from the president or lead program officer. If invited, organizations will participate in one of the two grantmaking cycles.

Woods Fund supports arts and social justice work that inspires, educates, engages, and mobilizes communities most impacted by poverty and structural racism. Art and social justice work can both inspire reflection and action on critical issues and can advance community-led solutions to address these issues.

Woods Fund may invite proposals to fund arts and social justice efforts that:

- Use arts as a tool to inspire and galvanize people to take action in community organizing campaigns and/or public policy advocacy efforts;
- Use arts to engage communities most impacted by poverty and structural racism to advance community-led solutions, encourage action, and promote equitable public policies for systems change;
- Includes those most impacted in decision-making in the organization; and
- Demonstrate high artistic quality.

Spotlight

Spotlight funding is an invitation-only opportunity. Through a collective impact approach, Spotlight funding seeks to invest in a specific issue area of concern or a segment of the city where investment from Woods Fund will have a significant, catalyzing impact. Collective impact initiatives involve a centralized infrastructure, a dedicated staff, and a structured process that leads to a common agenda, shared measurement, continuous communication, and mutually reinforcing activities among all participants.

The current Spotlight Initiative is Right On Justice, an alliance that seeks to transform schools, communities and the justice system through relationship-building and policies that effectively halt the school-to-prison pipeline and reduce mass incarceration in communities of color. Right On Justice was identified in March 2014 for Spotlight funding. A two-year grant was made to Communities United to work in partnership with Adler University.

A future issue area will be identified after significant input from existing grantees, colleagues in philanthropy and government, and other stakeholders.

Woods Fund staff will implement a request for proposal (RFP) process.

Special Grantmaking

Special grantmaking may occur throughout the year, and is generally by invitation only. Special grantmaking includes:

- Capacity Building Initiative (CBI);
- Special Opportunity Fund.

Capacity Building Initiative (CBI)

Current Woods Fund grantees must be formally invited to apply to participate in the Capacity Building Initiative via a letter or email from the president or lead program officer. If invited, the grantee will participate in a separate application process.

CBI targets small and emerging grantees that would benefit from individualized consultant support and peer learning workshops.

Woods Fund may invite proposals to fund capacity building efforts that strengthen:

- Internal operations and controls;
- Financial management and budgeting;
- Fundraising;
- Board and staff development;
- Constituent leadership development; and
- Additional organizational components that help build the infrastructure and sustainability of the organization's work.

Special Opportunities Fund

Special opportunities grants are available on a limited basis for one-time, time-sensitive efforts as approved by the president. Guidelines may be furnished upon request in writing to the president.

Evaluation Principles

Woods Fund seeks to imbed meaningful, effective, and efficient evaluation in all aspects of its work. Therefore, the Woods Fund has developed an evaluation and learning strategy for its main program areas: Community Organizing, Public Policy Advocacy, and Intersection of Community Organizing and Public Policy Advocacy. Through evaluation, Woods Fund will share best practices and "learnings" from its grantees and produce compelling and systematic reports delineating how community organizing and public policy advocacy directly create social change and dismantle poverty and structural racism. These reports and insights will be used to further the work of the grantees and build support for greater philanthropic investments in community organizing and public policy advocacy efforts.

Woods Fund believes that evaluation must be conducted in the spirit of learning and accountability through partnership.

In this spirit, the evaluation will be conducted to include:

- Learning: identify shared experiences and challenges in an ever-changing environment and to lift up best practices or strategies that can be replicated for greater impact.
- Multifaceted accountability: ensure Woods Fund is a responsible steward of the endowment and staying true to its mission, vision, and core principles. In addition, Woods Fund aspires to achieve mutual accountability between Woods Fund and its grantees.
- Partnership: work collaboratively with grantees to ensure meaningful learning and efficient and effective evaluation strategies.

Funding Limitations and Restrictions

While Woods Fund supports many types of organizations and activities, the following will not be considered:

- Business or economic development projects;
- Capital campaigns, capital projects, and capital acquisitions;
- Endowments;
- Sponsorship of fundraising benefits or program advertising;
- Health care institutions;
- Housing construction or rehabilitation;
- Individual needs;
- Medical and scientific research;
- Programs in and for individual public and private schools;
- Religious or ecumenical programs;
- Residential care, rehabilitation, counseling, clinics, and recreation programs;
- Scholarships and fellowships;
- Social and welfare services, except special projects with a clear public policy strategy.

APPLYING FOR A GRANT

Letter of Inquiry (LOI) Instructions for New Applicants

Woods Fund requires organizations not currently funded by the foundation to first submit a completed Letter of Inquiry form (LOI). Woods Fund offers informational sessions in advance of the Letter of Inquiry deadline, which prospective applicants may attend to learn more about Woods Fund and ask questions about the guidelines and application process.

LOIs are used to assess how well the proposed request matches Woods Fund's priorities. The LOI requests information on the organization's plans, capabilities, budget, and expected outcomes.

Woods Fund grants application process is conducted entirely on an online platform and applicants can access the platform via the foundation's website. First-time applicants will need to create a new account to complete a simple registration process and create logon credentials. Upon registration, applicants will be taken to the request page and will need to click on the Apply button to begin the application process. Applicants can save their draft LOI until it is ready for submission. Woods Fund requires submission of an LOI no later than midnight on the due date. Please be aware of deadlines. Applicants can contact grants manager Deborah Clark with any questions regarding the Woods Fund online grants application process at dclark@woodsfund.org.

In preparing the letter of inquiry form, please check to make sure that it:

- Fits with Woods Fund's vision, mission, core principles, and priorities;
- Provides a clear understanding of how the organization/project proposes to engage and include people most affected by poverty and structural racism in the process of addressing issues that impact them;
- Offers clear goals, proposed outcomes, key strategies, and timelines for community organizing and/or public policy;
- Demonstrates strong administrative management practices that include deliberate strategic planning, strong leadership and governance, the development of a financial base, and diverse fundraising efforts.

Once an LOI is submitted via the online platform, the applicant will receive an electronic verification that the application was received. If an electronic verification is not received within 48 hours, please contact the grants manager. Those submitting LOIs will receive an email response from Woods Fund staff approximately two weeks after the deadline date notifying them if they are invited to submit a full application. The applicant will also be provided instructions to access the application forms on the Woods Fund online platform.

Intent to Apply (ITA) Form Instructions for Returning Grantee Partners

Returning grantee partners must submit an Intent to Apply Form (ITA) on the Woods Fund online platform. Grantees will receive an ITA form code from the grants manager via email in advance of the deadline. Woods Fund requires that this form be submitted no later than midnight on the due date. Please review deadlines at <http://www.woodsfund.org/how-to-apply/deadlines>. Contact grants manager Deborah Clark with any questions regarding the Woods Fund online grants application process at dclark@woodsfund.org.

Once an ITA is submitted, the applicant will receive an electronic verification that the application was received. If an electronic verification is not received within 48 hours, please contact the grants manager. Unless there is a significant change from previous work, those submitting ITAs will automatically receive an invitation to submit an integrated application at least one month prior to the submission date for full applications with instructions to access the application forms on the Woods Fund online platform.
