Monitoring procedures (Part I, line 2)	The organization accepts requests for grants and support from other public charities. The requests are reviewed by a committee. Requests approved by the committee are funded. The foundation may award a charity a grant without having received a request for funding. The committee may select a public charity for funding based on its mission statement and the services provided. Support of childrens programs and medical research are examples of public charities having received funding from the foundation without having submitted a request for support.
