We supported soil sampling and analysis for 33 farms and ranchers through our Citizen Science Protocol, and we quantified the soil and atmospheric impacts of these efforts thanks to the manifestation of years of collaboration with scientifically focused academic partners, who also completed a literature review on the carbon sequestration potential of integrated crop-livestock systems in semi-arid regions. Within our region, the doors of three new mills were opened, and our producer program grew, with 17 new farms and 18 new artisan members, to represent over one million acres of arable and rangeland. We worked with our producers and legal support throughout 2017 to develop the first natural dye and fiber Agricultural Coop in the state of California. At our annual Symposium,
