Form 990 (2017)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Newsroom Practice Change (formerly known as "Practice Change") The Organization leverages its curriculum to catalyze and sustain the practice of solutions journalism in news organizations. It cultivates relationships with individual outlets or with groups of outlets, often resulting in high-impact solutions-focused reporting projects. Representative recent collaborations include those with The Houston Chronicle, Kansas City Public Television, and Ms. Magazine, as well as with collaborations of multiple news organizations in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, New Mexico, and Montana. Ongoing projects include WEWS-Channel 5 in Cleveland and the Pamplin Media Group in Oregon. These relationships typically begin with a workshop introducing newsroom staff to the solutions approach. The Organization then provides research and editorial consulting support to reporters, producers, and editors. In many cases, the Organization also offers modest financial resources to support reporter travel and other high-value activities. In 2017, the Organization supported projects focused on education and other topics. Having built a network of 140 news outlets, the Organization is now also focused on ensuring the sustainability of the solutions-journalism technique in these newsrooms and on fostering shared-learning across its newsroom partners. In certain special relationships, cases that promise to generate great visibility, impact, and learning, the Organization invests in longer-term, higher-impact newsroom projects. In 2017, it extended its "Education Lab" collaboration with The Seattle Times for a fifth year. "Education Lab" has generated dozens of prominent feature stories, hundreds of blog posts and interactive features, and a series of live events - which together have increased audience engagement around education issues and catalyzed notable policy changes. As a fiscal sponsor, the Organization also has also supported Honeyguide Media, a start-up online news organization that produces solutions-oriented coverage of education, health, and international development issues.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Knowledge Dissemination - (formerly known as "Pattern Change") In August 2017, The Organization launched a new version of the "Solutions Story Tracker," which contains over 2,800 stories tagged by issue and problem-solving approach and mapped by the location of the reported effort. It also launched "SolutionsU," a suite of tools to help educators and students easily find, integrate, and share solutions stories, to support teaching and learning in social innovation and other topics. The Organization supports faculty in developing and sharing teaching materials based on solutions-journalism stories in a range of disciplines. Since the original "Story Tracker" launched in 2016, 37 faculty members have used solutions journalism stories in 56 courses - including 30 courses in the most recent semester alone, in disciplines ranging from anthropology to business to public policy. Since August 2017, the Organization has delivered six student and faculty workshops at five different universities, reaching nearly 350 teachers and learners. Our community of registered educators and students grew to 170 and 345, respectively. In addition, it has launched SolutionsU-branded Twitter and Facebook channels and a monthly educator newsletter, gaining significant traction with its social media communities. In 2017 on Twitter, the Organization's following increased by 24% over six months, with monthly mentions of its handle up 65%. Its Facebook group averages 8% growth per month.

Community building The Organization's volunteer-led communities continued to grow in 2017, including six U.S.-based groups and the first international community in Paris. Additionally, interest in the solutions concept continues to grow outside of the United States, with projects beginning to launch in Latin America, Indonesia, East Africa, and Central and Eastern Europe. The Organization held its first large-scale gathering in November 2017, bringing together 89 journalists and journalism-school professors. Feedback from this anchor event was strong. 87% of attendees who responded to our survey said it exceeded their expectations.

Journalism schools The Organization works to integrate solutions reporting into journalism-school curriculum, creating a base of young journalists who have been exposed to the approach early in their careers. The Organization has established relationships with 22 university-based journalism schools that have committed to incorporating the solutions approach into their curricula.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Journalist Practice Change - (formerly known as "Mass Spread") Complementing its work with news organizations, the Organization seeks to advance the adoption of the solutions approach by individual journalists. Online network The Organization relaunched its website in August 2017, introducing new learning resources, a revised member area, and a redesigned version of the Solutions Story Tracker, an archive of solutions stories. On average, users spent 21% longer on the site than in 2016, and total visits increased by 11%. The Organization's online member platform, the Hub, reached 1,075 users by the end of 2017 and continues to grow at a rate of 10% per month. The Organization is gaining significant traction with its social media communities. In 2017 on Twitter, the Organization's following increased by 24% over six months, with monthly mentions of its handle up 65%. Its Facebook group averages 8% growth per month.
