Form 990 (2017)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Emerging Infections Program-Infectious diseases continue to cause significant morbidity and mortality in the United States. The goal of this program is to continue the population-based active surveillance system of the Atlanta Metropolitan statistical area that will detect and respond to new and emerging infectious diseases, as well as to monitor and investigate the epidemiology of healthcare-associated infections.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

The study serves as a valuable benchmark for the development of influenza vaccines and provides key insight into the maintenance of immunity to a constantly changing virus. Areas of focus being explored by this study include virologic surveillance for influenza, monitoring for antiviral-resistance among circulating strains, and evaluation of new diagnostic tests for rapid and bedside detection of influenza.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

This is a continuing pilot project to assess the frequency of norovirus hospital admissions and hospital-acquired norovirus. The purpose of the study is to identify the burden of rotavirus in adults and elderly in the post-vaccine era, to identify the strains of rotavirus causing disease in these populations and compare to the broader community using other surveillance datasets and to quantify the burden of norovirus in adults and elderly in anticipation of this group being a potential target group for vaccination.

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990 Part XII Line 2c	Due to small size of the Board, the AREF Board of Directors (Board) serves as the Audit Committee. The Board is responsible for overseeing management's financial, accounting and reporting processes, the system of internal accounting and financial controls and compliance with related legal, regulatory and ethical requirements. In recent years, the Board delegated the interview and recommended selection to a small committee headed by the Treasurer. This committee reviewed several applications, ranked them and provided a recommendation to the full Board for discussion and vote. During discussion, the Board reviewed the qualifications, independence and performance of the independent registered public accounting firm (Auditor). AREF utilizes Auditors for the purposes of financial statement audits and certification.
