What is the organization's primary exempt purpose?
 The Conflict and Development Research Fund is a supporting research organization for the Center on Conflict and Development at Texas A&M University. Its mission is to promote international agriculture and economic development and related research, education, and extension around the world. It is organized exclusively for charitable, educational, and scientific purposes. This includes, for such purposes, the making of distributions to Texas A&M University and its related governmental agencies and other distributions in direct support of Texas A&M University to entities that qualify as exempt organizations under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or the corresponding section of any future federal tax code.

Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. In a clear and concise manner, describe the services provided, the number of persons benefited, and other relevant information for each program title.
