Form 990 (2017)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

In-Q-Tel (IQT) was established in 1999 as a private, independent, not-for-profit corporation to help the CIA and broader U S Intelligence Community (IC) identify, adapt, and deliver cutting-edge technologies that address national security needs IQT's strategic investment model gives it the agility often lacking within traditional government contracting approaches to find and nurture entrepreneurs and companies that can provide a supply chain of innovation which enables the IC to benefit from commercial technology advances IQT's purpose is to take the calculated investment risks necessary to support leading-edge, but often unproven, technologies, and mature them to operational readiness to help the intelligence community achieve its missions Approach ----- IQT works as - A strategic investor, investing in companies to help nascent commercial technologies mature into mission-ready products at a lower cost than alternative approaches, - A technology accelerator, fostering development and introduction of technologies needed by the IC, and - An idea lab and forum for innovation and exploration, providing the IC with insight and access into both new technologies and leading innovators and thinkers Identifying Innovative Technologies ----- As a strategic investor, IQT identifies startup companies that have commercially-focused, "ready-soon" innovative technologies, which are off-the-shelf products that do not require long-term development from the ground up IQTs focus on this space means that it finds and delivers critical, innovative technology more quickly and cost effectively IQT crafts work programs to adapt a companys technology to specific customer requirements and makes an investment towards that work program IQT designs its strategic investments to accelerate product development and delivery, and to help companies add capabilities that its IC partners need IQT also makes seed investments, which are investments in companies that hold promise for contributing to national security capabilities These investments do not include a work program where the technology is modified Seed investments provide access and educational insights about that technology area that serve IQTs government partners, these often become investments with a work program once the company has grown to take on this endeavor or a government partner is ready to evaluate and utilize that companys technology IQT also serves as a technology consultant and advisor that provides market, technology, and venture capital insights to our government partners Additionally, IQT effectively leverages a significant amount of private sector funds, often from top-tier venture capital firms, to co-invest in our portfolio companies On average, for every dollar that IQT invests in a company, the venture capital community has invested more than sixteen dollars, helping to deliver crucial new capabilities at lower cost to the government As of March 31, 2018, IQTs areas of technology focus are Architecture, Field Technologies, and Enterprise Technologies Building Strong Companies for Strong Technologies ----- Using product development funding and equity investing, IQT creates incentives for companies to put their best talent into solving the toughest technology problems facing the Intelligence Community Once an investment is made, IQT works with the company and the customer to adapt the technology according to customer need, and facilitates solution delivery The advantages to the IC are significant lower initial and long-term costs, faster development, and ongoing product enhancements to meet IC needs Serving New Intelligence Community Customers ----- Since its inception, IQT has expanded its IC partnerships to include the CIA, the FBI, the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), the Department of Homeland Security Science & Technology Directorate (DHS S&T), the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA), the Department of Defense (DOD) and others Program Service Accomplishments ----- In furtherance of its exempt purposes, IQT has made more than 400 investments as of March 31, 2018, which includes more than 50 in the current tax year These technologies have contributed directly to situational awareness and mission capabilities of the intelligence and defense agencies Technology delivered by IQT, for example, makes it possible to fuse data from maps, images, text, and other sources, visualize information in ways not previously possible, rapidly process vast amounts of information in multiple languages, make sense of seemingly unconnected information, and identify critical intelligence faster and more effectively Simultaneously, IQT has cultivated a network of more than 200 venture capital firms and more than 100 labs and research organizations, further broadening the IC's access to innovative technologies This network has allowed IQT to leverage more than $11.4 billion in private-sector funds to support technology for the IC In addition, IQT established IQT Labs, which explore the art of the possible in emerging technology areas bearing on national security, including cybersecurity, biotechnology, commercial space, and advanced data analytics IQT Labs reflect IQTs nonprofit mission, including fostering collaborative arrangements that make private sector and academic technology accessible to the government, fostering the development of technology that will benefit the public, private and academic sectors in the United States and performing and promoting research in the field of technology IQT Labs are funded by proceeds from investment realizations on portfolio company exits IQT Labs include B Next, CosmiQ Works, Cyber Reboot, and Lab41, which are described below * B Next seeks to better understand and communicate the impact of emerging life science technologies, * CosmiQ Works researches geospatial-related technology advances developed by the open source community, venture-backed startups, technology companies, and governmental organizations, * Cyber Reboot challenges how we think about cybersecurity and develops strategies to improve todays cybersecurity approach, and * Lab41 explores how to work with and better use advanced data analytics Governance and Oversight ----- IQT is governed by an independent Board of Trustees comprised of former officials from the Defense and Intelligence Communities, as well as current or former CEOs of major companies, and university and investment industry leaders IQT is a private, independent, not-for-profit corporation IQT is neither part of the CIA nor is it a government agency However, IQT is party to and bound by a Charter Agreement and annual contracts with the CIA These agreements provide for appropriate insight and oversight of IQT by the Government The CIA keeps Congress informed of IQT's activities
