06. Related Investment Activities (Part VIII, Line 3)

The Organization reports its income and losses from investment activities as related due to the fact that any income from investment activities are allocated to future program activities, in accordance with the mission of the Organization.

The Directors recognize that non-cash contributions, in the form of packaged boxed software, have dramatically decreased. They project continued decreases in the future as software is increasing downloaded online, or made available on a subscription basis, which will substantially reduce our ability to raise funds as most of our funding comes by selling the non-cash contributions of packaged boxed software. In response to this market change, and in accordance with the charitable purposes, the Organization has sought strategies to invest its capital for the future benefit and purposes of its mission. Foundation will continue to invest part of its capital in financial markets to capitalize on the funds we already have. Although the investment losses reported at the close of the Organization's fiscal year may look substantial, the investment is made in some of the aggressive companies which may rebound in the sometime. The investment is done with
