The Company generates unrelated business income through certain testing and debt-financed leasing activities, the taxes on which have historically been inconsequential and are included in the allocated expenses reported in the combined statements of activities. Management has reviewed the Company's tax positions and concluded that there are no uncertain tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not criteria that would require accrual in the financial statements or disclosure in the footnotes to be in compliance with authoritative guidance. Generally, the Company is no longer subject to income tax examinations by federal, state or local tax authorities for years before 2014.
