FORM 990, PART I, LINE 1 (CONTINUATION)	HIS OR HER POTENTIAL From the bold beginnings of the Sisters of Charity in 1869, The New York Foundling has grown into a results-driven organization whose community support services have served as the foundation for hundreds of thousands of people to achieve stability and strength. We're always adapting to meet changing conditions, and yet our core value has never changed: every person has the right to a loving home and the chance to live a healthy, independent, and fulfilling life. Our network of programs, services, and opportunities are carefully designed for children, families, and adults to create transformational change in their own lives. We see the impact of our work every day - the new mother and father learning to be stronger parents, the young person in foster care finishing high school, a reunited family creating a loving home for their child, and the individual living independently in her own community. With nearly 150 years of experience creating resources, tools, and social capital, we have learned from our community what's right and what works. We share what we have learned with our partners and peer agencies, nationally and internationally. And, the strategies we use have been proven effective time and time again.
