Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part III, LINE 1	The Center envisions a world where every person participates with dignity as an equal member of society, regardless of gender. Where every woman is free to decide whether or when to have children and whether to get married, where access to quality reproductive health care is guaranteed, and where every woman can make these decisions free from coercion or discrimination. The Center for Reproductive Rights (the Center) is a non-profit global human rights organization that uses the power of law to advance reproductive rights as fundamental human rights around the world. Its game-changing litigation, policy, and advocacy work combined with its unparalleled expertise in constitutional, international, and comparative human rights law have transformed how reproductive rights are understood by courts, governments, and human rights bodies. The Center has played a key role in securing legal victories in the U.S., Latin America, Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, and Europe on issues including access to life-saving obstetrics care, contraception, and safe abortion services. In addition, the Center has built the legal capacity of women's rights advocates in over 60 countries through its Pro Bono program and legal networks. Form 990, Part III, LINE 4A U.S. Legal Program The U.S. Legal program strives to protect and advance reproductive liberty and access to reproductive health care in the United States by employing diverse strategies grounded in the center's legal expertise via litigation and legal advocacy. The legal victories of the U.S. legal program - including a landmark 2016 U.S. Supreme Court decision affirming a woman's right to access abortion and striking down abortion Texas restrictions, constituting an "undue burden" of the constitutional rights of women - have helped millions of women and their families by striking down abortion bans and other restrictions on access to reproductive health care, securing coverage for reproductive health services available through government-sponsored health insurance programs and protecting access to emergency contraception and confidential reproductive health care. The center's U.S. policy and advocacy team works at the local, state and national levels to protect and promote reproductive rights and health. It advocates for domestic and foreign policy that advances reproductive health and freedom, which allows women and families to prosper. Form 990, Part III, LINE 4B Global Legal Program The global legal program works to establish and maintain legal protections for reproductive rights at the national, regional, and international levels to improve the reality of women's lives with respect to their reproductive health. We are the recognized global leader in using the law to advance reproductive freedom, autonomy, and access to health care as fundamental human rights that governments are obligated to protect, respect, and fulfill.
