Additionally, temporary and/or traveling exhibitions hosted by the museum are often augmented and greatly enhanced by objects from our permanent and education collections. The museum also provides access to its collections to both scholarly endeavors and the greater public by actively participating with the general public, academia and the greater museum community by lending works and/or entire exhibitions from its collections to appropriate and approved lenders world-wide.

The Museum is annually required to file a Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax (Form 990) with the IRS. In addition, the Museum is subject to income tax on net income that is derived from business activities that are unrelated to their exempt purposes. The Museum files an Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return (Form 990-T) with the IRS to report its unrelated business taxable income. The Museum believes that it has appropriate support for any tax positions taken affecting its annual filing requirements, and as such, does not have any uncertain tax positions that are material to the financial statements. The entities would recognize future accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits and liabilities in income tax expense if such interest and penalties are incurred.
