See Schedule O For 75 years, Didi Hirsch Mental Health Services (DHMHS) has transformed lives by providing quality mental health, substance use and suicide prevention services in communities where stigma or poverty limits access Our roots go back to the 1930s when a group of women funded psychiatric care for families devastated by the Great Depression In 1942, with $5,000 and space provided by the Cedars of Lebanon hospital, these philanthropic pioneers established the first nonprofit mental health clinic of its kind in Los Angeles In 1974, the agency was renamed in honor of social worker Didi Hirsch after she and her husband, I Kingdon Hirsch, donated the matching funds for it to become a federally-designated Community Mental Health Center

Part X, Line 2	Didi Hirsch Mental Health Services is exempt from taxation under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and California Revenue and Taxation Code Section 23701d. Generally accepted accounting principles provide accounting and disclosure guidance about positions taken by an organization in its tax returns that might be uncertain. Management has considered its tax positions and believes that all of the positions taken by Didi Hirsch in its federal and state exempt organization tax returns are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination. Didi Hirsch's returns are subject to examination by federal and state taxing authorities, generally for three and four years, respectively, after they are filed.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a	DHMHS provides caring outpatient and residential behavioral healthcare services throughout Los Angeles County. With an operating budget of $50.5 million, over 500 staff and 160 volunteers-and delivering services in neighborhoods from Pacoima to Inglewood, to West LA and MacArthur Park-the agency served over 129,000 children, family members, adults and older adults through 10 community-based locations and almost 100 schools. By doing so, DHMHS has responded to a significant need as more than 85% of our mental health and substance use clients served live at or below the poverty level. Outpatient Services - DHMHS offers individual, family, and group counseling, psychiatric medication management, and case management for adults and children. Intensive services are delivered to those experiencing severe mental illness in community, home, and clinic settings. On the campuses of almost 100 schools, our therapists help students address emotional and behavioral challenges and succeed in their studies. Clients also work on their wellness and recovery through participation in peer-led support groups, classes, and recreational activities. The agency also brings primary care practitioners from local federally qualified health centers on site to improve clients' access to other health services. Crisis Residential Care - Didi Hirsch Mental Health Services is Los Angeles County's longest serving provider of crisis residential treatment, operating two residences, Jump Street and Excelsior House. Through our short-term program, men and women in psychiatric crisis-many of whom are homeless or at-risk of becoming homeless-regain stability and improve their mental health and living situations. Specialized Children's Services - As the first mental health partner in the Los Angeles Child Abduction Task Force established in 1992, DHMHS continues to help abducted youth reunite with their families after being recovered. Our agency also provides specialized foster care services to assess and treat children who have experienced trauma and abuse. Many of these children are five-years-old and younger, so through our Zero to Five program we help at-risk families with young children develop positive relationships that lay the foundation for future success. Specialized programs in South Los Angeles, Inglewood and the MacArthur Park neighborhoods provide support and therapeutic treatment and healing to youth recovering from the harrowing, solitary journeys that took them from former war-torn countries in Central America-many of which are still marked by significant violence and lawlessness-to the United States. Additionally, a dedicated program tailored to youth ages 15-24 utilizes therapy and medication to help young people manage their illnesses and assists them in pursuing and attaining their educational and employment goals. Because of its commitment to cutting-edge research findings and best practices, Didi Hirsch Mental Health Services is an active and contributing member of
