Part X FIN48 Footnote	The Organization recognizes the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by the taxing authority, based on the technical merits of the position. As of October 31, 2018 and 2017, there are no known items which would result in a material accrual related to where the Organization has federal or state attributable tax positions. Generally, the taxing authorities have three years to examine a tax return from the later of the filing date or the extended due date.

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Line 15b Compensation Review and Approval Process for Officers and Key Employees	The Georgia Humanities Council Board of Directors reviews the performance of and sets the compensation for President annually. The President writes a self-assessment, which is based on the GHC strategic plan, and submits it to a committee of the Board. The Vice Chair of the Board receives that report and discusses it with his/her fellow committee members, as well as the President. At the fall meeting of the Board, in executive session, the committee makes a recommendation to the Board regarding compensation, which the Board adopts. The Federation of State Humanities Councils publishes a salary survey annually, which the Board considers as part of its determination of executive compensation. Other factors include Emory University compensation policies, as the GHC is an affiliate of Emory. The staff members of the GHC also complete annual self-assessments and their performance is reviewed by President. The performance review process of the staff is part of GHC's affiliation with Emory University and it conforms to their Human Resource practices. As the President determines salaries for the staff, he also refers to the Federation of State Humanities Councils' annual survey as well as Emory University's classification system and consideration of market conditions.
