Question 2

The Irving Harris Foundation invites pre-selected organizations through our on-line grants management system, SmartSimple, to apply for support at designated times during the year. Our programmatic support includes three main areas: Early Childhood, Jewish Values, and Arts & Culture. We also make grants through a Legacy Giving area and a Discretionary Giving Program. Organizations are screened to ensure they have 501c3 status or statuses acceptable by IRS for grant making. Our program team then reviews applications, conducts site visits and meetings, and prepares write-ups to be discussed by Foundation program committees comprised of Board members, staff and outside experts, as needed. These committees make decisions on application awards / declines. Grants awarded over $100,000 for Early Childhood and above $50,000 for other giving areas are required to also have full Board approval. Once approval decisions are made, grants management handles grant disbursements. Formal contracts are prepared only for grants $10,000 and over, which are signed by Foundation and grantee official. All grant checks are prepared by William Harris Investors' accounting department, each signed by two authorized signatories, then mailed with letter transmittals by Foundation staff. Annual grant reporting is required for grants over $10,000.
