1 Briefly describe the organization's mission

Justice for Families (the Organization) is a national alliance of local organizations committed to ending the youth incarceration epidemic. Research demonstrates that children who have gotten into trouble with the law fare better when supported by non-criminal justice systems and when their families are allowed to support them. Today, juvenile justice systems lock down poor youth and youth of color b

Form 990 (2018)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Justice for Families (J4F) is a national alliance of local organizations and families working to transform families from victims of the prison epidemic to leaders of the movement for fairness and opportunity for all youth. J4F is the only national juvenile justice reform organization that is founded and run by families that have been directly impacted by the juvenile justice system. We are succeeding in advancing systemic policy and practice change by building a base of those directly impacted. J4F raises the visibility of the need for family decision-making and involvement and provides hands-on support to families and family-focused programs on successful organizing strategies. J4F is a trans-local organization dedicated toward building new and existing local organizations by developing new leaders and organizations in a number of strategic locations. Our primary goals are 1) to transform juvenile justice systems so that they are driven by the interests of youth and families and 2) to move resources away from youth incarceration toward direct investments in young people, their families and the communities most harmed by failed b
