The Madison Eagle Christmas Fund accepts donations from individuals generally ranging from $5 to $500. Volunteers work with social workers, churches and the administrators of the Madison Housing Authority to identify families and seniors who may wish to accept help to purchase Christmas gifts and food for the holidays. Those identified families and seniors are invited to apply and those applicants are vetted to be sure they meet the income requirements. Volunteers then determine what to purchase and then make a distribution before Christmas. The typical family this year received gifts and gift cards totaling from $200 to $455, depending upon the number of members in the family. We served 57 families. We also served 54 seniors living on their own as well as some living in a nursing home in town. The typical senior received gifts and gift cards totaling from $100 to $385, depending upon circumstances. We feel it is unnecessary at this time to supply a list of every family or every senior who received assistance. We have records of each donation if required.
