In December 2018, KARM Transitional Care was created through a partnership between Covenant HomeCare and Knoxville Area Rescue Ministries to provide a safe place for homeless individuals to continue healing after a hospital stay. Our goal is to improve patient outcomes through supervised continuity of care, ultimately reducing the patient's risk of developing subsequent illnesses or infections requiring additional hospital treatment. Funded through the Fort Sanders Foundation, this service helps fulfill Covenant Health's mission of improving the quality of life of the communities we serve through better health. One patient was treated in 2018. Covenant Homecare provides hospice services which allow patient care and family support in the home environment during the patient's end stages of life. Services are provided to terminally ill patients whose physicians have diagnosed them with a terminal disease that is expected to result in death within six months of being taken under care. The objective is to allow these patients to die at home with dignity. Services provided in the home consist of nursing care, therapy, spiritual services and social services. Patients include those covered by Medicare, TennCare and commercial insurance, as well as self-pay patients. No patient is denied care due to an inability to pay. Applications for financial assistance are provided to patients who need them, and financial counselors are available to assist with the application process. Covenant Homecare served 545 hospice patients in 2018 over the course of 20,785 visits. Additionally, Covenant Homecare manages the operations of Hope Center. Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 4	In 2018, the Covenant Health system-wide bylaws were amended to provide that new directors who have not previously served on the board will be elected to an initial one-year term instead of three years (the previous standard). Amendments also grant authority to the compensation committee to negotiate and approve the CEO's compensation. The bylaws were also amended to authorize the board to establish special board committees which may be terminated by resolution of the board. The chairman of the board may establish special board committees to advise executive leadership, other board committees or the full board. Committees may be composed of elected or ex-officio board members. Also in 2018, Covenant Health adopted system-wide medical staff bylaws. The bylaws created two new committees: System Quality Committee and System Credentials and Clinical Standard Committee. The System Quality Committee consists of licensed physician voting board members, other appointed voting board members, Covenant Health's CEO, and the chiefs of staff of Covenant Health system hospitals. The committee shall review quality of patient care, perform other duties assigned in the system-wide medical staff documents, receive and review proposed amendments to the medical staff documents and make recommendations to the board, initiate quality-related investigations, and act as a Quality Improvement Committee as defined under Tennessee law. The System Credentials and Clinical Standard Committee consists of licensed physician voting board members and other appointed board members. Covenant Health's VP of Hospital Operations, Chief Medical Officer, and Chief Nursing Officer shall also serve as non-voting members of the committee. 990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c	Board members, officers, and employees are required to adhere to rules and policies regarding conflicts of interest. Covenant Health, the parent company of the organization, distributes a board-approved Code of Conduct to all employees. The Code covers among other subjects, conflicts of interest. Additionally, managers are required to complete and sign a bi-annual management certification that addresses conflicts of interest. Board members' conflicts of interests are addressed in the corporate bylaws, and board members are required to complete and sign a conflict of interest questionnaire on an annual basis. The Integrity Compliance Office maintains records that contain conflict of interest information obtained from board members, officers, and key employees. These records are available to be queried prior to engaging in business transactions. The Chief Compliance Officer initially reviews all conflict of interest data. Based on this information, the officer determines what conflicts of interest exist at that point in time. Between times when surveys are collected, board members are expected to disclose any new conflicts that have arisen that affect pending board decisions. Officers and other employees are expected to report conflicts to the Chief Compliance Officer as they arise. Depending on the nature of the conflict and the circumstances surrounding the conflict and transaction, the Chief Compliance Officer, senior leadership, or the board of directors may review the conflict of interest. When appropriate, these parties may also consult legal counsel. Restrictions imposed on persons with a conflict of interest are determined on a case by case basis. For Covenant Health employees, the Chief Compliance Officer in conjunction with Covenant Health Executive Leadership determines how to appropriately manage the conflict. In any conflict involving a board member, such member is expected to recuse himself or herself from voting on matters related to the conflict.

The process for Covenant Homecare's CEO is included in response to Part VI, Section B, line 15b. Salary ranges are based upon the recommendations of the Consultant made after comparison with similar jobs in similar size health systems across the nation. Base salary is initially targeted at midpoint and may vary according to market conditions, performance, tenure, experience, special skills or qualifications, recruitment and retention challenges, and other relevant factors. Annual bonuses are designed to award 0-35% of base salary based upon system performance and accomplishment of certain targets established by the CEO. Base salaries and annual bonus opportunities for other officers and key employees are based on targets established by historical compensation consultant data and the Covenant Health Compensation department. Base salaries and bonuses are approved by Executive Leadership predicated upon performance, and are reasonable and consistent with fair market value. Base salaries are initially targeted at midpoint and may vary according to market conditions, performance, tenure, experience, special skills or qualifications, recruitment and retention challenges, and other relevant factors.
