Form 990 (2018)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

National program expenditures funded our national campaigns and programs, from organizational support for state affiliates, to policy advocacy, to national educational campaigns. A few highlights were the climate march in San Francisco, where an estimated 3,000 people of faith participated, the Multi-Faith Service of Wondering and Commitment at Grace Cathedral, and the faith-based workshops we hosted as part of the Global Climate Action Summit in September. In 2018 IPL earned 965 news media mentions and 3,887 social media posts, generating millions of impressions. We regularly communicated with over 86,000 people on our email list and reached more than 22,000 congregations. In addition, our staff and board leaders spoke at dozens of faith gatherings around the country.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

The next largest portion of our program expenses was distributed in support grants to state affiliates. State IPLs educated their congregations about global warming, facilitated congregations going green, and advocated for clean energy alternatives to coal, state climate policy, and stronger vehicle emissions standards.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

California Interfaith Power & Light (CIPL) educated its 700 member congregations about global warming and advocated for equitable and effective climate policies at the state level. Highlights of the year included the events associated with the climate march and Global Climate Action Summit in September, and new Bay Area programming to support congregational greening. The summit and march engaged thousands of people of faith and hundreds of our congregation. We also successfully advocated for a state target of 100% clean energy by 2045.
