Name: MARINE BIOLOGICAL LABORATORY

Form 990 (2018)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

The Marine Biological Laboratory maintains laboratories for the scientific study and investigation of a wide range of biological studies from biomedical to ecological research. MBL Resident Scientists are based full-time in Woods Hole and conduct funded research in areas of science that are relevant to the MBL's mission of fundamental biological discovery. Areas of focus include comparative evolution and genomics; the biology of marine organisms and microbiomes; neuroscience, regeneration, and development; ecology, ecosystems and global climate change; models of human disease; and cell biology, imaging, and computation.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

The MBL offers a wide range of scientific courses, workshops, conferences, and internships throughout the year. Central to the MBL's identity are its advanced, discovery-based courses for graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, and faculty. In these courses students learn from internationally renowned scientists and are immersed in the laboratory, learning cutting-edge techniques while investigating contemporary research problems. Each year, MBL courses attract more than 500 of the best and brightest students in the world, from more than 300 institutions and over 30 countries. Course directors and faculty are leaders in their fields, drawn from leading universities and research institutions around the world.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Visiting (Whitman) Research: The Marine Biological Laboratory hosts hundreds of researchers, postdocs, and graduate students from around the world to participate in scientific discovery courses, research, lectures, and field studies. As a convener of biology, the Marine Biological Laboratory is well known for fostering a highly collaborative environment, with scientists and students engaged in intensive research in a collegial and informal atmosphere. Largely a summer program, Whitman Center Scientists are provided with infrastructure and an informal, interactive scientific community that allows them to launch into research almost immediately upon their arrival. Advice and equipment are available from other researchers or from colleagues in the education program. Free from academic duties at their home institutions, some veteran Whitman Center Scientists report they do more hands-on research in three months at the MBL than they do during the rest of the year at their home institutions.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Schedule D, Part X, Line 2	The Laboratory is a tax exempt organization as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended (the Code), and is generally exempt from income taxes pursuant to Section 501(a) of the Code. The Laboratory is required to assess uncertain tax positions and has determined that there were no such positions that are material to the financial statements. Management believes that the Laboratory's income tax returns for years ended prior to 2015 are no longer subject to examination by tax authorities in its major tax jurisdiction. On December 22, 2017, the President signed into law H.R. 1, originally known as the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. The new law includes several provisions that result in substantial changes to the tax treatment of tax exempt organizations and their donors. The Laboratory has reviewed these provisions and the potential impact and concluded the enactment of H.R. 1 will not have a material effect on the operations of the organization.

Subsequent to the Committees' review, the form is made available to the full Board of Trustees for review prior to filing.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c	All trustees, officers, senior faculty, senior administrators, and other employees of the Laboratory are subject to conflict of interest policies that among other things, define material financial disclosure of information and specify procedures to be followed in managing these conflicts. The Laboratory's conflict of interest (COI) policies for trustees and officers requires disclosure whenever a trustee or a related party engages in an activity that could be considered a conflict of interest. Trustees are reminded that questions regarding the COI policy may be raised informally and confidentially at any time with the Chair of the Board of Trustees, the Chair of the Nominating and Governance Committee, or the University of Chicago's General Counsel. All trustees must annually disclose actual and potential conflicts of interest by completing a confidential COI Disclosure Statement and Acknowledgement, and these disclosures must be updated as new information becomes available that could affect the trustee's stated interests. The MBL's Director of Finance, in consultation with the Nominating and Governance Committee and University of Chicago's General Counsel, will compile the disclosures into a confidential database and prepare for each trustee a written acknowledgement of the disclosure that identifies any pending Laboratory transactions that may be affected by the disclosure. The Chair of the Board of Trustees will also review all disclosed potential conflicts of interest before making Board committee assignments. Regardless of these efforts, Trustees must be alert to any and all potential conflicts. To the extent a potential conflict has not been addressed, it should be brought to the immediate attention of the Chair of the Board, the Chair of the Nominating and Governance Committee, or the University of Chicago's General Counsel. The Trustee should also abstain from participating in or voting on the matter. Actions in this regard will be reflected in any official meeting minutes. The Laboratory requires that employees (MBL staff members) complete a COI statement annually. The statement is reviewed by the Director of Human Resources and the Director of the Division of Research. If it is believed there may be a conflict of interest on any of the statements, it is brought to the attention of the MBL Compliance Committee for resolution. Any MBL staff member who is or will be involved in an MBL business transaction in which a potential for conflict of interest may exist is required to report such potential conflict to the Chief Operating Officer. The MBL shall take action to ensure that the transaction, if it is to proceed, is on fair and reasonable terms and in the best interest of the Laboratory. Someone other than the individual with the conflict must initiate the resolutions for action and make the necessary decisions and control the transaction(s). The individual with the conflict must recuse themselves from the decision-making process.
