As a condition of employment, the President of the University is required to reside on campus premises. The residence serves both as a personal residence as well as a venue for carrying out University business. The University has determined that the value of the use of the personal residence is not considered taxable income to the President as provided in Internal Revenue Code Section 119. For tax year 2018, the President's use of the residence is conservatively estimated at $42,000. This estimated value is based on a fair rental value of $3,500 per month for similar houses in the area. This value includes maintenance of the property, landscaping, and snow removal.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11b	There are several distinct steps that Concordia follows in its IRS Form 990 Review Process . A first draft was prepared by Concordia's Controller, and a top level review was performed by University Management. After this initial review, an updated draft was sent to the University's auditor, Sikich. Sikich performed an in depth review of the first draft, requested support documentation for numerous parts of the 990, and provided items for the Controller to consider, verify, and/or correct. The Controller incorporated these items and developed a second draft of the Form 990. Upon completion of the second draft the Controller forwarded the draft, Sikich's list of items, and the Controller's responses to those items to the University's VP for Finance and CFO, who performed an in depth review. Upon completion of this review, the draft was sent to Sikich, along with the Controller's response to their items and changes, if any, identified after their initial review. Sikich performed its final review and provided the Controller with the near final draft. The unfiled IRS Form 990 was next forwarded to the University's Board of Regents. Again, the IRS Form 990 is amended, as needed. Finally, the IRS Form 990 is marked as complete and is filed with the IRS.
