Form 990 (2018)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Land Protection Program The Land Protection Program conserves natural resources by protecting lands including water quality, endangered and threatened species, critical habitat for wildlife, important agricultural soils, scenic views, and opportunities for public recreation From July 1st, 2018 to June 30th, 2019, Conserving Carolina protected 148 06 acres at 7 sites in 4 counties in North Carolina, including - 112 82 acres at 4 sites in Henderson County by acquiring a conservation easement on 10 53 acres and fee title to 102 29 acres - 12 1 acres at 1 sites in Polk County by acquiring a conservation easement - 20 12 acres in Rutherford County by acquiring fee title

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

- 3 11 acres in Transylvania County by acquiring conservation easements on both banks of the East Fork of the French Broad River In addition, Conserving Carolina conveyed fee simple title to 402 62 acres to the State of North Carolina for addition to DuPont State Recreational Forest Stewardship, Restoration, and Public Access Conserving Carolina continued to steward and enforce the conservation easements it holds, while striving to bring the most current scientific land management resources to our partner landowners Conserving Carolina also continued its management of the properties it owns by partnering with federal and state agencies, volunteers, and others to increase biological diversity, enhance wildlife habitat, and address other land management needs Among restoration projects, Conserving Carolina installed pollinator habitat on public and private conserved properties, actively engaged restoration projects on private lands and lands that it owns, and continued to combat non-native invasive plant species throughout its service area. Conserving Carolina began extensive wetland and stream restoration projects at two sites in Henderson County. Conserving Carolina partnered with state and local governments to create a new public park in Transylvania County and to advance greenways, multi-use paths, and trails for a multitude of user groups throughout the region by creating new opportunities for trail construction and maintaining existing trails.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Education and Outreach. Conserving Carolina continues to educate the public through a variety of avenues including print and social media stories and various events. Conserving Carolina also continues to encourage and facilitate public engagement with conserved and protected areas through outings, hikes, and its Hiking Challenge program, as well as regular volunteer and service learning opportunities including hosting numerous Alternative Spring Break programs. Conserving Carolina hosted two Speaker's Series of informational talks on topics relevant to conservation and the environment. Conserving Carolina continued the administration of AmeriCorps Project Conserve, a federally sponsored program which placed AmeriCorps members with conservation nonprofits and government agencies across western North Carolina. The project engages individuals in 6- to 11- month terms of service. By promoting additional community volunteerism, Project Conserve provides over 35,000 hours of service annually to the conservation of land, water and other natural resources in the region. Conserving Carolina also continued its Summer of Service program which engaged 7 high school-aged youth in 300 hours of service between June and August and provided them with life skills and leadership training opportunities.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Pt II, Line 5	The organization monitors every easement annually

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Pt II, Line 9	CC's accounting policy for conservation easements, which is widely used by other land trust organizations, states that easements will not be recognized as assets. Accordingly, easements received by donation are not included in income and easements purchased Pt II Line 9 are expensed. Management believes that this method results in financial statements that most accurately reflect the financial results of the Organization's activities.

Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Pt X, Line 2	CC is exempt from federal income taxes under 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Under the Code, however, income from certain activities not related to the organization's tax-exempt purpose may be subject to taxation as unrelated business income. The organization had no income from unrelated business activities in the 2018-19 fiscal year and was, therefore, not required to file Federal Form 990-T (Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return). The organization believes that it has appropriate support for all tax positions taken, and as such, does not have any uncertain tax positions that are material to the financial statements.
