Inspection

Name of the organization	South Carolina Coastal Conservation League, Inc.	Employer identification number	57-0887278
--------------------------	---	--------------------------------	-------------------

Form 990 - Organization's Mission or Most Significant Activities

The mission of the Coastal Conservation League is to protect the threatened resources of the South Carolina coastal plain - its natural landscapes, abundant wildlife, clean water, and quality of life - by working with citizens and government on proactive, comprehensive solutions to environmental challenges.

Form 990 - Organization's Mission

The primary purpose of the Conservation League is to identify, study, analyze, and research environmental issues and policies affecting the coastal area of South Carolina, as well as to provide public education. The Conservation League has identified four major areas of emphasis: 1) land, water and wildlife, 2) communities and transportation, 3) energy and climate, and 4) food and agriculture. The Conservation League's programs are supported primarily by contributions.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - First Accomplishment

Food and Agriculture

Conservation League staff coordinates and networks between farmers, producers, chefs and consumers. These efforts facilitate the process of linking food from local producers to chefs and consumers-making it easier for all in South Carolina to buy local, with the ultimate goal being to preserve agricultural lands and support the local economy. The consolidated activities associated with GrowFood Carolina, the Conservation League's local food hub, and CCL Realty, LLC are included in this program area. The local food hub project, GrowFood Carolina, is the state's first local food hub. GrowFood Carolina creates economic opportunities for local farmers by providing services and infrastructure that enable them to access wholesale markets. This work helps to conserve South Carolina's productive agricultural landscapes and provide a sustainable local food system for the communities. Since opening in 2011, GrowFood has sold over $7.2 million of local products, facilitating $6 million of revenue back to South Carolina's small and mid-sized farmers over the last seven years. Today, the Conservation League partners with more than 100 growers producing on more than 2,500 acres throughout South Carolina. GrowFood Carolina markets more than 300 items including fresh fruits, vegetables, nuts, grains, dairy, honey, eggs and salt to major retail chains, more than 200 restaurants, and a growing number of institutions and corporate campuses.

Grant money was received in 2018 to support the establishment of a statewide food hub network. As part of this grant, funding was given to GrowFood Carolina to pass through to the other food hubs in the state to support their efforts to grow this network. Since its inception in 2018, there has already been over $150,000 worth of local products traded between participating partners. Funding that was earmarked for the other food hubs but not paid out in 2019 was set aside in a liability account called Grants Due to Partner Organizations and is anticipated to be used in 2020.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b - Second Accomplishment

Energy and Climate

The objective of this program is to advocate for clean, renewable energy-components of a healthy ecosystem and quality of life-through policy reform, public awareness campaigns and educational outreach. The Conservation League promotes energy efficiency, energy conservation and alternative fuel sources as the cheapest and most effective solution to the climate and energy crisis.

Examples of achievements include progressive energy policies related to renewable energy, energy efficiency, and climate change-moving the state closer to a clean energy future. In 2018, solar markets continued to grow under Act 236 (2014 legislation that opened the way for more renewable energy production), which the Conservation League played an integral role in securing. In 2019, solar markets faced new challenges, which the Conservation League addressed in the following ways.

The Conservation League used the public-oversight failure of the $9 billion V.C. Summer nuclear project abandonment to expose and address flawed energy regulations, such as: underinvestment in proven energy efficiency measures; lack of rigorous energy planning practices that include public input; and reluctance to remove barriers to growth of renewable energy markets and capacity planning. The Conservation League testified at public hearings, participated in regulatory proceedings, authored newspaper editorials, and earned media coverage by highlighting the roles that clean energy, energy efficiency, market competition, and best practice planning should play in moving South Carolina forward in the wake of the failure.

Additionally, the Conservation League has emerged as a leader in the state's fight to protect the South Carolina coast from offshore oil and gas drilling and seismic testing. The Conservation League has filed litigation in federal court to protect South Carolina's coast from seismic testing and has worked successfully with the state regulatory agency to ensure that statutes that protect coastal resources are enforced.

Employer identification number

South Carolina Coastal Conservation

57-0887278

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c - Third Accomplishment

Communities and Transportation

The objective of this program is to advocate for land conservation and quality of life in South Carolina coastal communities by advocating for sustainable urban growth patterns, efficient and clean transportation systems, and permanent land protection where appropriate. The Conservation League provides technical and professional assistance to local residents to help preserve their land and communities, advocates for good land use policies, and provides community organizing expertise. When necessary, the Conservation League takes legal action to achieve these outcomes.

One example of this work was the Conservation League's spearheading of a coalition to support stronger floodplain development standards and prevent development in vulnerable places. The Conservation League led efforts in community planning in urban municipalities, such as West Ashley and Lady's Island, and staved off suburban sprawl by challenging major highway projects that further automobile-dependent sprawl. The Conservation League's advocacy efforts gave structure and voice to communities fighting to stop development on historic lands in Berkeley County and the Ashley River Historic Corridor.

Other examples include work to support comprehensive planning efforts in Georgetown and Horry Counties, as well as land protection initiatives that protected the Waccamaw National Wildlife Refuge. Alongside the community, the Conservation League fought a limestone mine in rural Williamsburg County as well as Interstate 73, which threatens quality of life and transportation dollars otherwise available for regional needs.

The Conservation League also supported successful bond referendum campaigns for land protection and transportation investments, most recently in Beaufort County.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4d - All Other Accomplishments

Land, Water and Wildlife

The objective of this program staff is to advocate for land and water conservation to further our mission of protecting clean water and air and furthering healthy natural and manmade systems. The Conservation League accomplishes this goal by ensuring public policies are adequate and properly implemented to protect water and air quality, wildlife habitat, and valuable landscapes and communicating to a broad audience about how to get involved in decisions affecting these coastal assets.

As one example of the Conservation League's work to conserve threatened bird habitat, the Conservation League led the effort to expand and protect the Crab Bank Seabird Sanctuary, located near Shem Creek in Charleston Harbor. This small spit has provided important habitat for thousands of nesting sea and shorebirds for decades.

Increasingly, severe weather events and boat activities have caused it to rapidly erode. In the early 2000's Crab Bank was approximately 23 acres.

Name of the organization

Employer identification number

South Carolina Coastal Conservation

Today, it is about half an acre. To address the problem, the Conservation League worked with a coalition of partners to advocate for the use of the dredge material from the South Carolina Ports Authority Charleston Harbor deepening project to reestablish Crab Bank to 80 acres, with 28 acres being suitable nesting habitat for seabirds and shorebirds.

Another example of work in this program includes ongoing efforts to protect coastal waterways and marine life from plastic pollution. The Conservation League worked with conservation partners to pass local plastic bag bans in Mount Pleasant, the City of Charleston, Beaufort County and 15 municipalities across the coast. The Conservation League also led an effort to stop a bill in the state legislature that would have prohibited local municipalities from banning plastic bags. This year, the program has worked on identifying and remedying plastic pellet pollution "nurdles" through community organizing, education and legal action.

The Conservation League continues to work on shoreline policy, water quality and quantity safeguards, wetland permitting and groundwater issues.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11b - Organization's Process to Review Form 990

A copy of the form 990 was provided to all board members after reviewed by management, and the audit and risk management committee. Prior to filing, the board of directors were given 10 days in which to present questions and/or comments about the form. Once these comments are addressed, the form 990 is filed in accordance with requirements.
