Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III

1 Briefly describe the organization's mission
Provide quality live musical performances of popular and classical music for the DFW area. Also, we seek to promote music education with an eye towards educating future artists and audiences by offering children's concerts and classroom visits through our Symphony Days program

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? Yes No
If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O.

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? Yes No
If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O.

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported

4a (Code Regular) (Expenses $ 341,493 including grants of $ 85,000) (Revenue $ 298,163)
Now in its 58th year, the orchestra is comprised of a core of about 60 professional musicians from throughout the DFW area under the direction of Music Director and Conductor, Clay Couturiaux.
Founded in 1961, The Richardson Symphony typically performs a season of six subscription performances of popular and classical live music. Some performances feature guest soloists (vocal and instrumental) from all over the world or popular local choral groups or soloists.

In addition to its regular concert season, select orchestra members may play in contract performances. Examples include providing a quartet for an event or providing orchestral accompaniment for a production at the Eisemann Center.

4b (Code Young Art) (Expenses $ 18,930 including grants of $ 0) (Revenue $ 49,125)
The Young Artist Competition draws young string players and pianists from across the nation and beyond. Eligible young artists compete with the first place winner being awarded a cash prize as well as the opportunity to present their chosen concerto (or other work) with the Richardson Symphony Orchestra during one of our spring concerts.

4c (Code Sym Days) (Expenses $ 34,576 including grants of $ 12,000) (Revenue $ 13,996)
In line with its mission of developing young artists and promoting music education in general, the RSO is actively involved in elementary education programs through our Symphony Days classroom visits and special children's concerts. Each elementary school in Richardson Independent School District is offered the opportunity to participate in a program which involves an on-site classroom visit by one of our musicians to demonstrate their instrument and prepare children to appreciate and enjoy an upcoming concert performed specifically for them at the Eisemann Center. In many cases, the concert they attend as part of the Symphony Days program is the first classical concert these children have attended. The program focus is third graders. In the last few years, we have also made the program available to many private schools and home school groups.
