This year, 18 local schools participated in the Sister Schools program, collecting 24,278 pounds of supplies. 7 of these schools participated in our second-year program and raised money to purchase backpacks in Uganda. With the help of several volunteers we were able to pack and load the 934 boxes on our container, which began its long journey to Uganda in December. Over three weeks, Sister Schools delivered school supplies to our 11 Uganda partners, including over 257,000 crayons, pencils, and markers. These valuable materials will keep countless students in school and support educators in their efforts to create safe, reliable environments for learning. We were also able to distribute 1,000 backpacks to Uganda children who walk several miles to school each day. Upon our return to the Seattle area, we went back to our 18 local partners to show students the impact they made in Uganda. Through our unique presentations, children in our neighborhoods learned that no matter who they are, they can always make a difference in someone else's life.
