Family Resource Centers - Families struggling through crises or challenging situations know they can find experienced practitioners who are responsive, accessible, and compassionate Hillsides offers numerous community-based programs and services through several Hillsides and Bienvenidos Family Resource Centers in Los Angeles County These centers provide parenting classes, mental health support, psychological testing, psychiatric assessments and medication management, crisis intervention and additional crucial resources for children and families at risk who are unable to access the services in our resource centers Hillsides' staff intervenes before children are removed from their homes in order to preserve families, help them begin to recover, and create secure, permanent living environments In addition, the agency offers school-based mental health services in surrounding school districts because children's needs are often first detected in the school setting Hillsides turns obstacles into opportunities to restore hope and honor the inherent integrity of each individual in every family 3,462 clients, impacting 10,356 family members

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Residential Treatment Services - Children come first at Hillsides. The Residential Treatment Services program provides a safe and stable environment where children and youth, who have been removed from their homes or have severe emotional or behavioral challenges, can thrive. Hillsides' dynamic team of experts help youngsters restore hope, rediscover the joy of childhood, and achieve their dreams of a happy future. The agency's main campus, located on 17 acres of park-like grounds, includes five cottages, a school, student center for art & music, recreation, and dining, children's resource center with a library and nurses' offices, playground, and swimming pool. We also strive to reunite children with their biological family, guardians, or anyone that is invested and capable of taking care of children. With input from children and families, Hillsides partners with other agencies and resources to provide them with the highest quality continuum of care and ensure they reach their full potential. 119 clients, impacting 238 family members.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Education Center - The Hillside Education Center ("HEC") is a state certified non-public school serving students in special education. HEC educates and serves both day students, or students living within the community, and students living in the residential program as it is co-located on Hillside's main campus. HEC is an accredited school through Western Association of Schools and Colleges. HEC believes that, given the appropriate supports, all students can make great strides towards achieving their academic, developmental, and social/emotional potential. HEC uses a philosophy of skill development to create lasting change. Students who attend HEC commonly have had difficulty within their school careers and have experienced high levels of challenges, academically, socially, and behaviorally. 121 clients, impacting 277 family members.

Part X, Line 2	Hillsides is exempt from taxation under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and California Revenue and Taxation Code Section 23701d. Generally accepted accounting principles provide accounting and disclosure guidance about positions taken by an organization in its tax returns that might be uncertain. Management has considered its tax positions and believes that all of the positions taken by Hillsides in its federal and state exempt organization tax returns are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination. Hillsides' returns are subject to examination by federal and state taxing authorities, generally for three and four years, respectively, after they are filed.
