Return Reference	Explanation
Grantmaker's Description of How Grants are Used	All grants are made to public charities whose exempt purposes are charitable, religious or educational. At the time that each grant is made, the Organization relies on representations made by the recipient regarding its tax-exempt status and eligibility to accept charitable contributions as well as the federal government's inaction with respect to revoking the recipient's tax-exempt status. When preparing the Form 990, the Organization verifies that each recipient has maintained its tax-exempt status and eligibility to receive charitable contributions using the information reported to the IRS. If a recipient loses its tax-exempt status, the Organization attempts to revoke the grant to that recipient and any grants made after the recipient lost its tax-exempt status.
