Facts And Circumstances Test

Part II Line 17a: The NBS Classical Music Institute maintains a continuous and bona fide program for solicitation of funds from the general public and community. This is accomplished by the giving of numerous public concerts throughout the year at which contributions are solicited. In addition, each year, a national classical music performance competition is held which produces revenue from (1) contributions of attendees, (2) fees from the competitors, and (3) ads in the programs. The first of these qualifies as public contributions, reported on Line 1 of Part II. For the years 2012 through 2015, we did not hold the competition, because of general economic conditions. This has resulted in a decrease in Line 1. We also participate in a township monthly Friday night tour of the business community, called "First Friday", for which we hold a concert. We are thereby able to solicit contributions from the public that may not normally attend our other concerts. These "First Friday" events are no longer held. We are introducing a public concert series to replace these events. Our general public contributions, outside of these special events, has also fallen over the past several years, we believe, because the competitive environment for contributions to the arts has also intensified. As stated above in the explanation for Part II, Line 10, our large $100,000 donor will no longer be contributing in 2018. Therefore, with our existing small contributions, we fully expect to come much closer to meeting the 33% small public contributions rule.

Schedule I, Part I, Line 2	Scholarship and Financial Aid Policy of the NBS Classical Music Institute. The following non-discriminatory policy applies to all grants and awards: 1. There will be no discrimination among candidates on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin. 2. The Institute's Board of Directors will appoint a committee to administer these grants and awards. The committee will determine whether the student or family is to receive an award and 2. The Institute's Board of Directors will appoint a committee to administer these grants and awards. The committee will determine whether the student or family is to receive an award and express need with evidence thereof. This may include a tax return or a letter stating the family circumstances that lead to this need. The second is an honorary scholarship award, which is given if the award criteria are met and the parent(s) do not express need. An honorary award certificate is given instead of the cash award. Criteria for Award: 1. In all cases the student must be judged by the committee to have musical talent. 2. One or more of the following criteria may be applied: (a) The student is already taking lessons and needs longer or more lessons. (b) There are multiple children who desire lessons and the parent(s) express need in order that all children can take lessons. (c) The school has a need for specific instruments in order to enrich and strengthen the entire curriculum. Examples of such instruments are viola, cello, double bass and clarinet. d) There is a need to promote or enrich special programs such as chamber and theory.

Return Reference	Explanation
Schedule L, Part II	Schedule L, Part II Line (1): This was a 6 month Note due July 1, 2020 with 4% interest per annum. As of the filing of this Form 990 the Note has been fulfilled, including interest of $1,254, on June 23, 2020. Part II Line (2): This was a teletransfer of $6,000 from the President's personal bank account in response to a sudden alert from the bank of an imminent overdraft on the Organization's bank account. The $6,000 was transferred as $2,000 on 12/3/2019 and $4,000 on 12/9/2019. No further authorization was needed from Board or Committee, because it had to be done immediately and it was a payment into the Organization's bank account not a withdrawal from it. This $6,000 loan has not yet been repaid to the President and is still due.
