Since the first Housing First project opened in 2006, Cuyahoga County has seen a 75% decrease in the rate of homelessness, and announced in 2017 that it expects to end chronic homelessness by the end of 2020. In 2014, the Foundation convened a new initiative, A Place 4 Me, to coordinate a community response for preventing and ending homelessness among youth and young adults. The initiative includes public and private partners and collaborates with young people with life experience of homelessness to develop new approaches to better serve homeless youth.

The SCFC works to improve educational opportunities in Cleveland's Central Neighborhood. SCFC is the lead convener of the Cleveland Central Promise Neighborhood which is a collective impact initiative that works to transform the educational and developmental outcomes of children and families in the Central Neighborhood. Promise operates with Central residents at the forefront, believing they are the ones who have the biggest impact in leading their neighborhood. Promise engages volunteers by providing leadership training, resource information, and tools to support them in connecting and sharing with their neighbors those opportunities that provide quality learning for their children. Promise also partners with the nonprofits, early childhood care providers, schools, public housing, libraries, and businesses that provide direct resources to families to ensure their effectiveness through communication and collaboration. Schedule I, Part I, Line 2	The Sisters of Charity Foundation of Cleveland begins its' grant award process by reviewing grant proposals to ensure that Foundation guidelines are met for mission, geographic area, program area, and population served. Required documents from potential grantees include audited financial statements, IRS determination letter, and IRS Form 990. After initial verification has taken place, a program/grant manager is assigned to each proposal. Additionally site visits are conducted with a representative from the organization and a narrative summary is completed for the distribution/grant committee. All proposals are then carefully reviewed by staff and the distribution/grant committee as stewards of Foundation funds. Once the selection process is complete, grantees are monitored through site visits to ensure proper use of funds. Periodic reports and budget information are required and reviewed for consistency and adherence to the program goals and objectives. At the end of the grant period, closed grant/final evaluation reports are completed and reviewed by the program officer/grants manager for compliance with the grant agreement. These evaluation are used as an internal document for future spending requests.
