Part III Supplemental Information

Provide the information, explanation, or descriptions required for Part I, lines 1a, 1b, 3, 4a, 4b, 4c, 5a, 5b, 6a, 6b, 7, and 8, and for Part II. Also complete this part for any additional information.

Return Reference	Explanation
Part I, Line 3	Beaumont Health, the parent corporation and sole member of Beaumont Health Foundation, uses the following to establish the compensation of the organization's top management official: - Compensation committee - Independent compensation consultant - Written employment contract - Compensation survey or study - Approval by the board or compensation committee
Part I, Line 4b	Beaumont Health provides certain supplemental retirement benefits to certain officers, key employees and physicians. These benefits are provided through a non-qualified deferred compensation plan, under which the benefits being earned are subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture. To become entitled to the benefits being provided, each covered employee must meet specified requirements relating to further employment. Until those requirements are satisfied, the employee is not entitled to these amounts. If the employee were to have terminated employment voluntarily in the year to which this return applies, those supplemental retirement benefits would not have been paid out. It should be noted that these supplemental retirement benefits are part of a retirement program that provides retirement income for all years of service that the employee provides to the organization. Any retirement benefits should be viewed as applying to the entire length of the employee's service to the organization. Margaret Cooney-Casey, non-qualified plan distribution, SERP 457(F): $59,711 John Fox, non-qualified plan distribution, SERP 457(F): $749,996
Part II:	Executive Compensation at Beaumont Health Background Beaumont Health's executive compensation philosophy and program aligns with our strategic objectives, which contribute to the health and well-being of the residents throughout the communities we serve. As Beaumont looks to retain strong talent in both executive and non-executive positions across the organization, similar philosophies are utilized, which align with our organizational values of compassion, respect, integrity, teamwork, and excellence. To successfully lead such a large, complex organization like Beaumont Health, highly talented executive leadership is essential. Successful recruiting, retention and motivation of leaders requires nationally competitive compensation and benefits. Beaumont also considers recruiting executive leaders who could choose positions in industry sectors other than health care. Based on a rigorous objective methodology, including review of an independent consultant's Written Reasonableness Assessment Opinion and their national market data from other health systems, assessment of job responsibilities, evaluation of qualifications, and review and approval by a board committee comprised of independent and disinterested directors, Beaumont Health is confident that our executives' 2019 compensation is both competitive and reasonable. Philosophy Our executive compensation programs are based on the following key attributes: - Programs are aligned to the market - Beaumont provides market competitive compensation and benefits that are commonly provided by health systems of our size and complexity. Beaumont executive compensation is also aligned with the performance of the organization. For example, when the organization achieved upper-quartile performance, the intent is to have executive pay aligned with market pay in the upper-quartile. Lower levels of performance results in lower levels of executive pay, including no incentive pay if the organization does not meet certain metrics. - Performance metrics are tied to key strategic objectives - most of an executive's compensation at Beaumont is dependent on how the organization performs on key goals and metrics including patient safety, quality of care, and patient experience and satisfaction. As such, a substantial portion of an executive's pay is 'at-risk' (not guaranteed) based on organizational performance. Some of the 'at risk' pay is awarded over a multi-year period and there are no guarantees the entire amount will be paid. The executive's actual take home pay in any given year might be less than the total compensation as reported on the 990 if the organization's objectives over multiple years are not achieved. Further, Column E of Schedule J of the 990 can be easily misinterpreted and is often overstated due to counting compensation accrued in a given year, but not yet vested. To avoid inadvertently "double counting" compensation the best reflection of a single year's compensation is Schedule J Column B totaling Columns (i) through (iii) for 2019, which contains the most accurate source of information related to an executive's paid compensation in any given year. Year to year, an executive's total compensation will vary based on organizational performance as well as the scheduled timing of payments of amounts earned but not vested in earlier years. - General health and welfare programs are consistent with non-executives - in an effort to drive consistency, transparency, and fairness, Beaumont executives participate in the same health and welfare programs as other non-executive employees. Governance of Executive Compensation Beaumont is committed to maintaining high standards of corporate governance. Our corporate governance process is compliant, transparent and ensures compensation is administered in a fair and equitable manner consistent with IRS guidelines. Executive compensation is governed by the Organization and Compensation Committee (OCC) of the Board of Directors of Beaumont Health, the parent organization of a multi-entity health system. The committee is comprised of independent board members who have no conflicts of interest as it relates to the organization's executive compensation. The committee is responsible for: - Reviewing, validating and approving performance goals and metrics related to the executive's at-risk compensation plans. - Reviewing, validating and approving performance achieved on the executive at-risk compensation plans. - Reviewing and approving compensation for each member of the organization's senior leadership team. - Ensuring compensation is reasonable and appropriate based on performance achieved and the organization's mission. The independent committee also receives support from outside advisors with expertise in health care organizations and executive compensation.

The Corporate Compliance Office, with the assistance of human resources and specific individual departments, will coordinate upon hire and each calendar year thereafter, a process of obtaining conflict of interest/disclosure of remuneration statements. All areas of the institution will follow the human resources hiring process protocol to assure compliance with the conflict of interest program. At any time when a designee becomes involved in a relationship that is or may be perceived to be a conflict of interest, the designee must complete the conflict of interest/disclosure of remuneration statement and forward to the Corporate Compliance Officer. A conflict of interest or need to disclose remuneration may exist if a Beaumont designee or any member of their immediate family receives compensation in any form for services rendered in any capacity to any organization or individual that has any past, present or prospective business dealings with Beaumont, if such compensation might be reasonably construed as tending to prevent the designee from acting solely and wholly in the best interest of Beaumont Health.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15	Beaumont Health's Board of Directors, of which Beaumont Health Foundation is affiliated, has duly appointed an Organization and Compensation Committee (the "Committee"), which is responsible for the review and approval of compensation and benefits provided to Beaumont and its affiliated members' executive management teams, the Committee has adopted a written executive compensation philosophy statement governing the work and review process of the Committee. The Committee follows the procedures described in the philosophy statement when it reviews and approves the compensation and employee benefits provided to senior management, including the Chief Executive Officer and other officers. The Committee reviews all aspects of compensation, including current and deferred compensation, and benefits, including qualified and non-qualified benefits. The Committee meets four times a year and approves compensation and benefits only to the extent that the Committee has concluded that the compensation and benefits constitute no more than reasonable compensation for each executive. The Committee consists of six members, all of whom are disinterested members of the Board of Directors. The Committee works with an independent compensation consultant to prepare and review in advance comprehensive data showing the compensation provided by similarly situated organizations for functionally similar positions. The Committee also prepares a timely and thorough written record of its deliberations and conclusions. As a result, the Committee's review process is designed to satisfy the procedural criteria necessary to qualify for the rebuttable presumption of reasonableness under the federal income tax law intermediate sanctions rules. The Committee has expressly determined that the total compensation provided is reasonable, based on the review of the market data presented by the independent compensation consultant and on the review of all other relevant facts and circumstances.
