The completed forms must be returned prior to the commencement of an office term, and these forms must be updated whenever circumstances require or once per calendar year, whichever is sooner. All information disclosed is reviewed to identify conflicts of interest and to guide the resolution of those conflicts. For leaders, reviews will be completed by an appropriate American Academy of Allergy, Asthma and Immunology committee or executive body. For faculty, reviews will be completed by the continuing medical education committee or the annual meeting program committee, depending on the activity in which the faculty member will potentially be involved. For authors, reviews will be completed by the practice diagnostics and therapeutics committee. In all cases, an individual's disclosure will be reviewed in the context of the activity in which s/he will potentially be participating. This could potentially include asking the individual to alter the relationship which creates the conflict, or removing the individual from involvement in the activity. The results of each review will be communicated to the individual and the organization planning the activity to facilitate the resolution of the conflict. The individual will be expected to disclose to the appropriate audience any relationships that were found to be, or to present the potential for, conflicts of interest by the reviewer. In the event that a candidate for any award works in the laboratory, department or institution of a committee member, that committee member will not be permitted to vote or submit any score for that application. Committee members will also excuse themselves from the review procedure if they are actively collaborating with the candidate or his or her mentor. Such conflicts must be disclosed prior to the conference call. At the discretion of the chairperson, the committee member may be permitted to remain on the conference call but can not participate in the discussion of that application in any way unless specifically requested to provide any point of clarification by another committee member. The exception to this is if the candidates work directly in the laboratory of the committee member, in which case the committee member may be asked to disconnect from the conference call while that application is discussed.
