What is the organization's primary exempt purpose?
 The mission of the SuperYou FUNdation is for youth to discover their most empowered selves and to tap into their potential to positively impact the world. Through writing, visual arts, and performing arts exploration, youth will learn to call upon their inner superhero and personal strength to help overcome the obstacles they face. Creating as their inner superhero, they will transform the view of themselves and the world to become master creators of power, positivity, and possibility in their everyday lives. Building connection and community, students will then team up to form "superhero leagues" with other classrooms (from other states, or possibly, the globe), to create social good missions to change the world.

The SuperYou FUNdation has expanded to include specialized programming to specifically empower youth with Down Syndrome, culminating in presentations and performances in NYC at the Player's Club and the Jewish Community Center in Harlem where children with Down Syndrome expressed their "superhero" selves through singing, dancing, fashion shows, and theatrical self-expression. In addition, The SuperYou FUNdation expanded to include programming for preschool students and data from the JCC Preschool indicated an increase of student engagement as a direct result of our arts, dance, and music-infused curriculum.

29 In the five years of implementing the social emotional learning, character development, and the Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports of the SuperYou FUNdation curriculum, the Title One Queens School, PS 239 has reported a quantifiable shift with their students with regards to aggressive behaviors. As quoted on CUNY TV, Principal Michele Dwzonek said "When I first Came into the school five years ago, we were using a different system for positive reinforcement, and it didn't seem to make any impact on the students. We were still having a lot of aggressive behaviors. Now, there's a difference in the children, especially as they go through the [SuperYou FUNdation] curriculum and they talk about what's so special about themselves and I think that is really important in our day and age... becasue many kids aren't hearing those positive reinforcements from the people surrounding them. So, they themselves need to pick out that positiveness and then push it forward." 30 The SuperYou FUNdation led an arts, theater, and Music-infused intensive workshop to inspire and empower hundreds of students. For the culminating performance, students sang, danced, and declared their "superpowers" (of love, kindness, resilience, truth, happiness, hope, etc.) in their self-designed costumes of their most empowered "superhero" selves, energizing a stadium of people at the Joseph P. The SuperYou FUNdation curriculum was used as the social emotional curriculum to inspire and empower over 500 students from pre-k - 5th grade. Quantitative and qualitative data shows that The SuperYou FUNdation character development program had a positive impact on student engagement, attendance, and test scores, which culminated in a SuperYou celebration with the entire school on "Respect For All Day." Students and teachers dressed in their own self-designated "superhero" costumes, declaring how they will use their newfound confidence, kindness, and "superpowers" to uplift the world, as they danced and sang songs from the curriculum with founder/creator, Lourds Lane. Because of the efficacy, empowerment, and impact of the SuperYou FUNdation, founder and creator, Lourds Lane was honored as the winner of the Ideagen Global Leadership Award and was invited to be a featured speaker at the Empowering Women and Girls Summit at the United Nations on September 13, 2019. These events expanded the global awareness of our cutting-edge approach to social emotional learning through an immersion of music, arts, and "superhero" character development, which resulted in new schools requesting our curriculum. (Grants $ 0) If this amount includes foreign grants, check here . . . ► <input type="checkbox"/>	7,034
