Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

APOPO US works to support the tuberculosis (TB) program, mine action program and research department of APOPO's global operations headquartered in Tanzania. APOPO US is also working to increase knowledge of the landmine and TB issue among the US public, and in 2018 began preparing paperwork to send demonstration rats to US zoos. APOPO's TB detection programs work with over 100 partner clinics in Tanzania, Mozambique and Ethiopia and supports them to find and treat more TB patients. For this, human sputum samples are collected from partner clinics that have already tested them for TB, mostly using sputum smear microscopy. At APOPO's labs the samples are made safe and rapidly rechecked by trained TB detection rats followed by who-endorse confirmation tests. Confirmed results are instantly sent back to the clinics that oversee patient counselling and treatment. APOPO raises partner clinic TB detection rates by 40%. APOPO's tuberculosis detection programs continued to have a significant impact in 2019. APOPO's detected over 2,000 additional TB patients in Tanzania, Ethiopia, and Mozambique. This means that more TB-positive people who have been missed by public clinics are not put on life-saving treatment before they can infect other people and prolong the vicious cycle of TB. APOPO's landmine detection rats, nicknamed HeroRATs, ignore scrap metal and only detect the scent of explosives, making them much faster at finding landmines than humans with metal detectors. HeroRATs are too light to set off landmines, making them a perfect tool to speed up detection. When integrated into conventional mine clearance methods, such as vegetation-cutting machines, and manual deminers with metal detectors, the rats are proven to significantly accelerate operations, helping return safe land to vulnerable communities as quickly and cost-effectively as possible. This prevents accidents and quickly returns land to communities for development and sustenance, at a fraction of the cost, leaving funds to address yet more areas. In 2019 APOPO continued to conduct mine and explosive ordnance clearance in Cambodia and Angola. The organization cleared over 2 million total M2 of land given back to local communities, helping thousands of people return to their lands and lives free from the threat of mines. In Cambodia, APOPO's HeroRATs proved their incredible speed and cost effectiveness. HeroRAT's integration with manual demining teams were able to clear land at four times the pace, and less than half the cost of manual demining teams only. APOPO also launched a new initiative technical survey dogs, which when teamed up with HeroRATs, will improve cost efficiency of mine action in Cambodia and elsewhere even more in 2019 and beyond. At APOPO, we train rats to save lives and our team of innovators make all of this happen at our training and research headquarters in Morogoro, Tanzania. Rising to this challenge, our team employs a multi-pronged approach to address the primary objectives of optimizing performance of our existing scent detection applications and exploring innovative new applications for them, while continually evaluating and assessing animal health and welfare and building local and global scientific capacity. In 2019, APOPO's training teams began research on two new applications while preparing new rats for landmine and TB detection and monitoring the work of existing rats in the field. Initial research on the rats ability to detect both illegal wildlife products when masked with other odors proved very promising. APOPO also began researching if rats can detect petroleum contamination in soil, a project which will yield preliminary results in early 2020.
