Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

As the first step towards Broadband for a Billion, Geeks launched its VillageConnect! initiative which, working with key partners to bring affordable and effective connectivity to villages and refugee camps. Connectivity will be based on satellite delivery and wifi distribution coupled with an ecosystem of hardware and software tools designed to help recipients leverage the benefits of connectivity. GEEKS' DigOnce! initiative is also designed to help achieve the goal of Broadband for the a Billion. The basis of DigOnce! is model legislation designed to drive and inspire a global policy effort to help close the digital divide by accelerating the rollout of more affordable fiber optic networks (in both advanced and emerging economies) through the introduction of a green, intelligent, infrastructure sharing protocol. The DigOnce! model legislation is designed for use by Governments and NGOs around the world to use as a template for considering the benefits of a DigOnce! Policy approach and Geeks has been advocating for other governments to adopt similar approaches and accelerate the expansion of connectivity to unserved and underserved communities. Geeks has also been leveraging regional Connectivity for a Revolution Thought Leadership Forums around the world focusing on engaging industry stakeholders on technological innovations, delivering digital access to underserved and unserved communities, emerging global challenges, and financially sustainable broadband business plans to further develop and work on Broadband for a Billion initiatives to close the digital divide.

Sustainable Oceans Project--Geeks recently completed a contract, sponsored by government and private-sector stakeholders, to develop a commercially sustainable connectivity model designed to help address forced labor and human trafficking in a national commercial fishing industry. In addition to addressing Human Rights concerns via vessel geo-positioning and providing connectivity to the crew, the model has commercial benefits for vessel owners including the ability to transmit catch reports, monitor weather, conduct safe navigation, and send distress signals. Other benefits of connectivity related geo-positioning technologies include the ability to better address illegal unreported and unregulated fishing, overfishing and seafood fraud.

Geeks has launched a global capacity building program for Government level disaster preparedness stakeholders. The first in a series of events was recently held for Government representatives of developing country that is prone to natural disasters and conflict and that is seeking knowledge and skills on connectivity best practices. Held in coordination with global inter-governmental and connectivity organizations - and drawing upon technology-neutral skills building - the Geeks Without Frontiers program has set the stage for development of a disaster preparedness plan in the client nation. The scalable platform developed by Geeks will be used to build capacity in connectivity related Disaster Preparedness globally.
