Form 990 (2019)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

After four years of testing, refining, and perfecting our approaches to whole-school wellbeing, we formally came out of stealth mode on January 15, 2019 and launched our finalized digital platform to the world. The Four Pillars of Wellbeing online digital platform is a multi-component online system for implementing school wellbeing across all stakeholders in the educational system. It is comprised of a professional development platform with videos, audios, and workbooks for staff and educators. We also released our Four Pillars of Wellbeing student curriculum with six different developmental age groups (Infant, toddler, 3-4, K-2, 3-5, 6-8th grade). Lastly, we launched our Wellbeing Analytics system, so that schools can track, measure, and reinforce performance of the skills across everyone who uses the program. The Four Pillars platform launched in ten schools, where we were able to measurably impact the wellbeing of around 10,000 students, teachers, and staff members. In tandem with the digital platform, we also launched our Rollout Representative support ecosystem, which provides human-level support to all schools who implement the Four Pillars of Wellbeing. The Rollout Representatives are comprised of veteran educators who have rolled out our work in their schools, and now feel passionate about helping other schools do the same. We supported ten schools in building their Wellbeing Teams, which are the stakeholders in each school most passionate about making the program a success, and they directly work with the Rollout Representatives. We helped them build custom rollout strategies for their schools, get onboarded into the platform, and we mediated successful launches in all ten schools. One year later, we have had 100% retention rates across our year 1 schools, and we have seen 80% average completion rates of our materials. This high implementation rate along with the positive wellbeing metrics and enthusiastic feedback have helped us conclude that we have landed on the right strategy to scale in 2020 and beyond. We are confident that our work has, indeed, improved the lives of approximately 10,000 people in 2019, and we aim to double this the following year.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

We made significant progress in data collection for three research projects, and were successful in publishing one additional major scientific publication. The finalized publication was in the top-tier psychology journal Emotion, and the title is The Recognition of 18 Facial-Bodily Expressions Across Nine Cultures. We found strong evidence for contentment as a universal emotion across nine very different cultures around the world. This piece is the final major study of a trilogy that definitively places contentment on the map of universal emotions worthy of future scientific investigation and psychological cultivation. We also developed and validated a scale to measure contentment in future research. Additionally, we finalized our analysis on a study that compares contentment with happiness, and we have preliminary data that provides evidence that contentment actually provides more psychological wellbeing benefit above and beyond happiness - the current reigning champion of wellbeing in most modern cultures. Lastly, we finished data collection and analysis on a 3-year study that tracked the impact of the Four Pillars of Wellbeing in a school with year-over-year improvements in psychological wellbeing for students and teachers. We will publish all of these studies in forthcoming manuscripts next year.
