The Madison Eagle Christmas Fund accepts donations from individuals generally ranging from $5 to $500. Volunteers work with social workers, churches and the administrators of the Madison Housing Authority to identify families and seniors who may wish to accept help to purchase and/or receive Christmas gifts and food for the holidays. Those identified families and seniors are invited to apply and are vetted to be sure that they meet the income requirements. Volunteers then determine what to purchase and then make a distribution before Christmas. The typical family this year received gifts and gift cards totaling from $200 to 475, depending upon the number of members in the family. We served 48 families representing 156 individuals. We also served 76 seniors living on their own as well as some living in a Madison nursing home. The typical senior received gift cards totaling from $100 to $450, depending upon needs and circumstances. We feel that it is unnecessary at this time to supply a list of every family or every senior who received gifts. We do have records of each donation if requested.
