990 Schedule F, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Pt I Line 2	Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) are a part of all programs and are critical to the success of UHRs implementations. They help project teams to learn what does and doesn't work in their efforts to overcome poverty and suffering. Monitoring and Evaluation helps UHR maximize the effectiveness of its projects. The processes of M & E provide a documented record of the programs, and help strengthen accountability. Monitoring is the routine ongoing collection and review of information on a certain programs activities, outputs and outcomes that provides the project team indications of the program's progress and objectives. UHRs Monitoring procedure is a collaborative process between UHR staff, partners and communities to review what has happened, identify intended and unintended changes and consider whether activities have contributed to those changes. This regular collection of information shows whether or not the program is performing as expected, or if adjustments are necessary. Prior approval of grants to be used outside the United States, United Hands Relief undergoes a thorough evaluation of the program, as well as the potential partner organization. Due diligence must be completed by the partner organization and UHR runs background checks on all stakeholders and staff.
