College students with needs that are unmet through traditional sources. Students may arrive on campus with inadequate winter clothing, the Society can provide funds to buy winter clothing and/or boots. Other students may need to go home for a family emergency, the Society can help meet that need as it also does for those students with uninsured medical and dental expenses. Some students apply for help with credit bearing courses/programs or travel to enable them to graduate and to enrich their educational experience. Students with a credit shortage can receive aid in funding for summer courses.

Students can receive vouchers to purchase textbooks or a computer for Smith College courses. Graduating seniors can receive a grant to help with job search and interview expenses or for graduate school applications. The Society's endowment is invested in the Smith College Investment Pool. The Society follows the college's spending rate approach that seeks the largest annual contribution to operations while providing adequate
