Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
II 9	Conservation easements are comprised of listed rights and/or restrictions over the owned property that are conveyed by a property owner to ABF, almost always in perpetuity, in order to protect the owned property as a significant natural area, as defined in federal tax regulations. They may be sold or transferred to others so long as the assignee agrees to carry out, in perpetuity, the conservation purposes intended by the original funder. Conservation easements, by their very nature, do not generate material amounts of cash flow annually.
