Form 990 (2019)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

ACADEMICS: Through contemporary master's degree, doctoral degree, and graduate certificate programs, Erikson Institute prepares leaders in child development, social work, and early childhood education. We offer the most comprehensive, interdisciplinary understanding of children and families through classes on campus and online. We also offer programs to help professionals who work with children and families hone their skills, learn new techniques, and earn credits to maintain their professional licenses. In the Fall of 2020, Erikson enrolled over 460 students into our Masters and PhD programs, as well as our certificate programs. Upon graduating, Erikson's diverse group of over 3,000 alumni go on to work across Chicago, the nation, and internationally in a range of professions where their unique understanding of child development serves children and families both directly and indirectly in education, service, and leadership roles.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

DIRECT SERVICES: Erikson provides services directly to children and families, as well as consulting and training for the professionals who serve them. Erikson's Center for Children and Families provided intensive mental health services for nearly 640 children and families in the Chicagoland area in 2020 for 6442 hours of treatment-1540 of which were provided pro-bono. In addition to its main clinic located at Erikson's River North campus, CCF has established three satellite clinics in high-need Chicago neighborhoods. CCF also oversees a broad range, immigration-related trauma initiative, the only one of its kind in the state. In addition, our Fussy Baby Network, a service for families struggling with infant care, served 899 families last year, including families with a baby in the NICU. Finally, our Early Childhood Project with the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services has expanded its contract to serve nearly 6,000 families annually across Illinois. Through this project, Erikson developmental specialists serve children in the child-welfare system due to abuse or neglect and help the State in crucial decision-making that affect the lives of children and families.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

RESEARCH, POLICY & LEADERSHIP: Erikson conducts research that bridges theory and practice, generating new knowledge that invigorates our academic courses, services, and programs, and improves life for children and families in Chicago and throughout the nation. Research areas include early childhood math, social emotional learning, literacy, home based childcare, home visiting programs, and technology and media for children and families. Using evidenced-based research, Erikson's Early Childhood Leadership Academy (ECLA) provides early childhood and civic leaders with content knowledge to make the most informed decisions about policy setting and resource allocation. Participants have included some of the state's leading policymakers and community stakeholders, such as Illinois Lt. Governor Juliana Stratton. Last year, Erikson provided customized childhood trauma-focused learning session for 23 cross-sector leaders working directly with Governor Pritzker's Justice, Equity and Opportunity (JEO) Initiative. Over the past three years alone, nearly 170 individuals have completed our in-depth ECLA leadership programs. Erikson's Early Development Instrument (EDI) Project, a neighborhood-level population measure that gauges the development of young children within the context of their community, recently completed its pilot phase. Erikson's EDI data has allowed our community partners to make great strides for young children and families, including a $1 million increase in Early Childhood Block Grant funding for Greater East St. Louis for preschool expansion and $2.1 million over six years to the Community Foundation of Kankakee River Valley to address childhood trauma and provide resources for families in the county.

Schedule D, Part X, Line 2 FIN 48 (ASC 740) footnote	The accounting standard on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes addresses the determination of whether tax benefits claimed or expected to be claimed on a tax return should be recorded in the financial statements. Under this guidance, the Institute may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. Examples of tax positions include the tax-exempt status of the Institute and various positions related to the potential sources of unrelated business taxable income. The tax benefits recognized in the financial statements from such a position are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. There were no unrecognized tax benefits identified or recorded as liabilities during the periods covered by these financial statements. The Institute files Forms 990 in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and the State of Illinois.
