Form 990 (2019)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

We offer individual counseling, family counseling, marriage counseling, parent coaching, workshops, support groups, mentoring, medication management, and psychological testing. What separates us from other agencies is that we focus on the whole family, offer immediate crisis support and join with the family in a therapeutic alliance to walk through their situation and empower them to build community supports after successful completion of treatment. On average, we offer long term services to approximately 400 different families a year, seeing 105-110 families on a monthly basis. Due to the on-going Covid-19 pandemic we have altered our program slightly and have temporarily suspended our mentoring services.

Facts And Circumstances Test

Teen Hope of Idaho, Inc. fails to meet the public support test for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2020. However based on the following facts and circumstances, the organization should be recognized as a publically supported organization under the Internal Revenue Code 501 (c)(3).The total amount of public support for the organization during the above mentioned period is 29.09%. Therefore, the total public support is greater than the required 10%.The organization received contributions of cash and property from individuals to establish initial operations which will no longer be included in the Public Support Calculation under 509(a)(1). In addition, the Covid-19 global pandemic occuring during the last half of the fiscal year had a negative economic impact and adversely affected contributions received by the general public. The organization still received routine contributions from long-term dedicated patrons but is continuing to seek ways to expand its outreach and to compete for broader public donations during this on-going economic crisis caused by the pandemic.Teen Hope of Idaho, Inc. does not receive support from a single family; rather it receives support from members of the general public. The organization received a portion of its support from individuals in the community.Teen Hope of Idaho, Inc. is served by a governing body that represents the interest of the public; it does not represnt the interests of the donors of the organization. These representatives ensure that the organization meets the needs of teens and families in crisis in the community.
