Form 990 (2020)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

CODE: 511120. Published and distributed our advertisement-free, multicultural and nature education magazine for students, parents, educators and libraries, to promote creative writing, art and critical thinking and interactions in youth. Average print run: 925. Subscribers include schools, libraries, teachers and families and many on-line users as Skipping Stones content is carried by several full-text websites for educational and library users. The magazine content is also used in both print and online standardized tests, and by some print and online publishers. Expenses shown above are: editor's salary and employee benefits, taxes paid, printing and postage for producing and sending out the magazine issues, office rental, and office expenses, etc. The revenue of $73067 is from subscription and single copy sales, online use, and Skipping Stones content use fees. The donations and grants received from subscribers and foundations helped cover the remaining expenses of our operations.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

CODE: 511120. We held two annual honor award programs to recognize multicultural awareness and nature education in juvenile literature, as well as in teaching resources. The Youth Honor Awards program promotes creativity in children and youth, and serves kids and educators. The Skipping Stones Honor Awards program recognizes books and teaching resources that promote multicultural and international awareness, and/or nature understanding. We also held our annual Haiku and nature art contest for all students and home-schoolers. There were approximately 350 entrants but these programs benefit all educators and readers of Skipping Stones as well as other educators and general public. Expenses consist of time spent by the staff on the task of processing, reading & judging entries, preparing and mailing the issues, certificates, books for the winners, etc. Revenues: Entry fees for the awards program and award seals. The expenses attributed to this program are approximate as we have only one paid staff and therefore, the staff time is divided between various tasks in the office and thus it is hard to be very exact.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

We sent educational reading material for low-income schools, libraries, families and organizations serving low-income youth. Under this program, we sent free and discounted subscriptions, free back issues of our magazines and donations of books to about 125 schools/libraries, and about 500 students, near and far. The expenses for this program are covered by general donations and small grants that we receive from supporters and foundations.

Return Reference	Explanation
Schedule I, Part I, Line 1	Yes, We have maintained a record of all grant checks written to the organization to which grants were made). There was only one organization, NAACP Branch # 1119. Eligibility: Fiscal Sponsorship agreement with NAACP Branch #1119. And, when a grant ear-marked for them is received, we send them a check for that amount, minus our sponsorship fee. We do not have any other fiscal sponsorship arrangements with any other organization.
Schedule I, Part I, Line 2	These grants were made only to the local branch #1119 of NAACP, a 501 (c) 4 organization, with whom we have a fiscal sponsorship agreement. We asked the recipient organization to keep records of how funds were spent and send us a report of activities undertaken. The grants that they received were only for activities under exempt purposes. They sent us a report of their activities conducted and accomplishments which we have used to describe information included in part IV (see below).
Schedule I, Part II, Line 1	NAACP Eugene Springfield Branch #1119 had requested us to be their fiscal sponsor for the grants they had applied for. The purpose of the grants they received was within the scope of 501(c)(3) projects. As their fiscal sponsors, we granted the Eugene/Springfield Branch of National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People a sum of $153,881 from the ear-marked grants received. We asked them for, and received, a report detailing how the grant money was used, as a part of the monitoring of funds being used by the organization. The money was used by the organization to work on its mission that includes promoting cultural awareness, education, confidence in youth, and communication with public. It covered part of their expenses of renting office space, community meeting space, library and reading room, salaries for staff and consultants, and training of youth, etc. The money helped retain 6 staff members (4.5 FTE) The organization worked to help the BIPOC community deal with the changes brought about by COVID-19. They served youth with tutoring program and SMART reading (in collaboration with Skipping stones as well as others). Starting in March 2020, they helped mitigate the impact of COVID 19 by teaming with FOOD for lane county to hold food pantries and deliveries to school-aged youth and their families. This partnership led to a full fledged agreement to become an official food distribution site for people in need. They are also working on efforts to increase graduation rates in the state of Oregon for African American /Black students and in communities of color. They have had several book giveaways and family support drive thru events in 2020. In May 2020, they mailed 500 literary packets (containing 1,000 copies of our educational magazine) in collaboration with us. COVID-19 response took up a majority of their staff and program efforts-working with the Oregon Health Authority and Lane County Public Health-to help in quarantine efforts and helping over 50 families locally. Ongoing FREE programs included academic tutoring, community space, food pantry, literary support and community engagement.
